TRIO WIN NOBEL CHEMISTRY PRIZE FOR WORK ON PROTEIN STRUCTURE

David Baker, Demis Hassabis and John Jumper were honoured for their work in predicting and even designing the structure of proteins

BAKER AWARDED FOR DESIGNING NEW PROTEINS

Baker designed a new protein in 2003 and his research group has since produced several new proteins, including those that can be used as pharmaceuticals, vaccines, nanomaterials and tiny sensors. "David Baker has succeeded with the almost impossible feat of building entirely new kinds of proteins," the Nobel Committee said in its statement | P12

USING AI TO PREDICT PROTEIN STRUCTURE

- Hassabis and Jumper created an artificial intelligence model that has been able to predict the complex structure of over 200 million proteins
- The shape of proteins is key as it determines their function. Heiner Linke, chair of the Nobel Committee for Chemistry, said the two solved a 50-year-old problem: predicting proteins' complex structures

TATA, SIR

GURBIR SINGH @Mumbai

INDIA's best known industrialist and chairman emeritus of Tata Sons, Ratan Tata, 86, passed away at South Mumbai's Breach Candy Hospital late on Wednesday night leaving a vacuum in the formidable $100 billion Tata Group.

Confirming persistent speculation that the ailing corporate leader had breathed his last, Tata Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran announced: "It is with a profound sense of loss that we bid farewell to Mr Ratan Naval Tata, a truly uncommon leader whose immeasurable contributions have shaped not only the Tata Group but also the very fabric of our nation."

Paying condolences to the industrialist, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, in a post on X said: "He provided stable leadership to one of India's oldest and most prestigious business houses."

As late as on Monday, when he was admitted to hospital, Ratan Tata took to X to scotch speculation about his ill health saying he was going in for a routine medical check-up.

Ratan Tata started his career in the Tata Group in 1961 managing operations on the shop floor of Tata Steel. CONTINUED ON: P13

Knives out for Congress from INDIA bloc allies after Haryana debacle

Shiv Sena (UBT), AAP, TMC lead the attack, say grand old party's arrogance led to defeat

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday came under fire from its INDIA bloc allies who squarely blamed the grand old party for the poll debacle in Haryana, with several leaders accusing it of being 'arrogant, overconfident and entitled' and giving less space to its regional allies.

Launching a scathing attack, the Shiv Sena (UBT) attributed the Congress's poor show to the 'overconfidence and arrogance' of the party's state leadership. In an editorial of Sena's mouthpiece Saamana, it asked the Congress leadership to introspect and learn from its mistakes. The jibe comes at a time when Congress and the alliance partners are engaged in seat-sharing talks ahead of the Maharashtra elections, scheduled for later this year.

"The INDIA alliance could not win in Haryana because the Congress felt they would win on their own and they did not need any other partner in power. If they had shared seats with the SP, AAP or other smaller parties, the results would have been different," said Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut.

The Congress' Haryana unit had unit refused to accommodate the AAP and the SP, though senior leader Rahul Gandhi was in favour of it.

The party suffered another setback as its Uttar Pradesh ally Samajwadi Party on Wednesday released a list of six candidates for the upcoming Assembly bypolls. Sources said Congress leaders were upset about the SP's unilateral move as it came in the middle of ongoing talks.

Meanwhile, leaders of AAP and TMC were unsparing towards the Congress. AAP leaders also ruled out any truck with the Congress in Delhi assembly elections, scheduled for early next year.

Taking potshots at Congress, AAP leader and Rajya Sabha MP Raghav Chadha penned a poem on X: "If you had cared about my wishes, it would have been a different matter, If you had taken care of our desires, it would have been a different evening. Today he too must be regretting leaving me, If we had walked together it would have been something else."

Several Opposition leaders including Congress' Jammu and Kashmir ally Omar Abdullah, the Left parties, and Bihar ally RJD targeted the Congress and asked it to introspect and change its strategies.

"Congress will have to go deep into it and find the reasons for its defeat," Abdullah said. TMC MP Saket Gokhale said the attitude of not accommodating regional parties even in places where they felt they were winning, led to the shocking electoral setback.

RBI keeps repo rate unchanged at 6.5% for 10th time in a row

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India on Wednesday kept the repo rate unchanged at 6.5%, for the 10th time in a row, but changed its stance to 'neutral' that may lead to a cut in the forthcoming policies. According to analysts, the change in stance is the first step towards a rate cut and signals the beginning of the easing cycle as early as December.

However, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das, who completes his five-year term in December, refused to accept the policy stance change is a pivot. "The prevailing and expected inflation-growth balance has created conditions for a shift in the monetary policy stance as there is greater confidence on last mile of disinflation," he said.

Shaktikanta Das

The banking regulator also retained the retail inflation projection at 4.5% for 2024-25, with Das stressing the central bank will have to closely monitor the price situation and keep the 'inflation horse' under tight leash lest it may bolt again.

RBI maintained status quo despite the US Federal Reserve lowering the benchmark rates by 50 basis points last month. The central banks of some developed nations have also reduced their interest rates.

This was the first meeting after the RBI's monetary policy committee was reconstituted last month. The three newly appointed external members are Ram Singh, Saugata Bhattacharya and Nagesh Kumar.

Drama over Atishi's 'eviction' from official home

ANUP VERMA @New Delhi

THE political tussle between Delhi's AAP government and the Lieutenant Governor has a new flashpoint: the Delhi CM's official residence.

Delhi Chief Minister Atishi's office on Wednesday alleged that her official residence at 6, Flagstaff Road was forcibly vacated by L-G V K Saxena on orders from the BJP.

"For the first time in the history of the country, the CM's residence was vacated. On the instructions of the BJP, L-G forcibly removed CM Atishi's belongings from the CM residence. LG is preparing to allot the CM residence to a big BJP leader," the CMO alleged.

AAP MP Sanjay Singh said, "Despite official correspondence, the CM residence had not been allotted to Atishi, who is the rightful allottee as CM of Delhi. Although a temporary office was set up at the residence, the staff was later evacuated."

Sources at the L-G's office, however, said the owner of the CM's residence is the PWD, which takes possession of the residence after it is vacated, makes inventory of goods kept there, and then, allots it to the next chief minister.

The BJP claimed that the bungalow was not handed over to the Public Works Department and its keys were still with Kejriwal.

Nagendra orchestrated Valmiki scam: ED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

B Nagendra, Congress MLA

THE special court to try cases against sitting and former MPs/MLAs has taken cognizance of a prosecution complaint filed by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in connection with the alleged scam in Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd.

B Nagendra, Congress MLA and former minister for Scheduled Tribes Welfare, has been named as the prime accused and mastermind behind the scam.

He allegedly orchestrated the scam with the help of 24 others, including his associates Satyanarayana Varma, Etakari Satyanarayana, JG Padmanabha, Nageshwar Rao, Nekkenti Nagaraj and Vijay Kumar Gowda.

The ED launched its investigation on the basis of the FIRs registered by Karnataka police and CBI, which found that around Rs 89.62 crore was diverted from the bank accounts of the corporation to the fake accounts in some banks in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana and later laundered the money through shell entities. This scam came to light after Chandrashekhar, an employee of the corporation, died by suicide in May 2024, according to a press release from the ED. P5

Lokayukta police issue summons to Siddu's kin

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE Lokayukta police have summoned Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's brother-in-law Mallikarjuna Swamy, who has been named as accused No. 3, and Devaraju, accused No 3, for questioning on Thursday as part of their investigation into the alleged irregularities in allotment of MUDA sites to CM's wife Parvathi, according to a highly placed source in the Lokayukta office here.

The land acquired by MUDA from Parvathi was gifted to her by Swamy, who had purchased it from Devaraju. MUDA had allotted 14 sites to Parvathi in an upmarket area in Mysuru for the land acquired from her under the 50:50 scheme.

Siddaramaiah has been named as accused No 1 and his wife as accused No 2 in the case registered on a complaint by social activist Snehamayi Krishna. A Lokayukta team inspected the land in question along with the complainant last week.

Raj mining tycoon donates 3K acres to Magadi mutt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PB Oswal Jain, a mining tycoon from Rajasthan, has donated around 3,000 acres of land in various parts of Karnataka to Palanahalli Mutt at Magadi in Ramanagara district.

Revealing this to reporters here, Dr Siddaraju Swamiji of the mutt said, "PB Oswal Jain has donated 3,000 acres of land to the mutt as per legal procedures. The pieces of land are under two companies registered in Tumakuru. Mining is being done there. Income from mining will be used for maintenance of the mutt, construction of schools, colleges, hospitals, cowsheds, temples and welfare projects."

A senior member of the mutt told TNIE that properties owned by Jain were transferred to the mutt a month ago. The properties are in Shivasandra, Gubbi, and Chitradurga. Coal and minerals are being extracted from the land in these places. Jain, who is on a spiritual path, made this donation to the mutt.

He said Jain, 78, has been associated with the mutt for the past 25 years. Jain has a son, who is settled abroad, and a daughter, who is a chartered accountant in Rajasthan. He divided his inherited property between his children 20 years ago. However, the land donated to the mutt is not inherited, but earned by him. Jain settled down in Karnataka 30 years ago.

Jain said, "I took a Jain vow and donated my property to the mutt to follow the spiritual path."

AI traffic lights to reduce wait time, congestion

BATCS adjusts timings based on traffic density at each junction

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

COMMUTERS in the city can expect shorter wait times at traffic signals and reduced congestion as the city expands the Bengaluru Adaptive Traffic Control System (BATCS). Currently, 60 junctions, including Basavanagudi, Jayanagar, and Hudson Circle, are equipped with the AI-powered system, and plans are in place to implement BATCS at 165 junctions by January 2025.

The initiative aims to improve traffic flow and reduce delays across the city. BATCS employs real-time Artificial Intelligence to dynamically control traffic signals, adjusting timings based on the traffic density at each junction. The system uses the CoSiCoSt ATCS application, which optimises signal timings by gathering data from camera sensors installed at intersections. This leads to smoother travel experiences and fewer traffic.

Bengaluru ATCS project, initiated in May 2024, involves upgrading 136 existing junctions and installing 29 new ones, covering a total of 165 traffic signals. So far, 60 junctions have been upgraded.

Addressing a press conference here on Wednesday, City Police Commissioner B Dayananda said the project will set a benchmark for smart traffic management in urban India. "Once all 165 junctions are operational, we plan to expand BATCS to an additional 400 junctions in a phased manner," he said.

Joint Commissioner of Police (Traffic) MN Anucheth highlighted BATCS' advantages over previous systems, emphasising its real-time adaptability and central monitoring capabilities. Unlike older systems, BATCS can synchronise signals along major corridors, creating 'green waves' that facilitate uninterrupted traffic flow. The centralised monitoring also enables quicker responses to fluctuations in traffic. With its initial implementation already delivering positive results in areas like Basavanagudi and Jayanagar, the city's commuters are set to benefit further as the system expands, he said.

WORLD MENTAL HEALTH DAY

What are you worried about?

GURUDEV SRI SRI RAVI SHANKAR

A SIGN of good mental health is having a total sense of freedom. What keeps you from being free is worry. Worry about the future, worry about what other people will think about you.

This constant worrying can severely affect your decision-making ability. From the smallest decisions like which clothes to wear and which mobile to buy, to more serious ones like which career to opt for, most decisions you take are based on the undercurrent of what others would think about you rather than rational and informed choices. The reality is that nobody has the time to think about you because even they are busy worrying about what others are thinking about them.

If you are worried about the future, I would like you to do this -- turn back and see this is not the first time you are feeling this way. You have been anxious before also. You were anxious about getting admission to colleges or getting jobs. Do you remember those times? You made it through those moments of self-doubts and anxiety, and you will make it through these ones too.

A recent survey shows that 85% of our worries never happen, and for the 15% that do, we manage 90% of those situations. This means most of our worries don't actually come true, making worrying a pointless activity. Yet, we still do it, building up stress and toxins in our bodies. Just know, one day it will all end, and the curtains will fall. Accept this truth, it can give you strength. Whatever problem you're facing now, you have the strength to overcome it. Invoke the valour in yourself and take every problem as a challenge.

The second thing is, have a dream and believe in your innovative spirit. People who worry cannot dream. As youth, you should start thinking about what you can give back to society. If you keep thinking about what you are going to get from this world, there will be no end to worrying but if you come from the space of 'I have been given a good education and now I should start thinking about ways I can start contributing; how I can help the economy; how can I help bring people together; in what ways I can bridge the differences that have widened in society', this thought process will help you get over smaller worries.

Broadening your vision and 'worrying' about a larger cause will make you fearless. If you really want to worry, worry about something big. Worry about the betterment of society. One thing that we all need to work towards is improving the mental health of people in our communities. Every 40 seconds a person dies by suicide, as per the World Health Organization. We must come together and help others overcome depression and suicidal thoughts. Here, tools like meditation, and the right breathing techniques like Sudarshan Kriya, known for their stress-relieving, calming and energizing benefits, can go a long way in this fight for better mental health which is the birthright of every individual. Once people have higher prana or life force energy, and they have learned to calm the mind, they will find happiness is their very nature.

Regular practice of some pranayama, yoga and meditation can simply lift your mind out of this habit of worrying effortlessly. They not only relax your mind and bring clarity of thought, they also help you find your voice, your inner voice, away from the clutter of others' opinions. They make you more intuitive and sharp, and your personality shines forth. In that respect, spirituality allows your individuality and creativity to blossom.

Life is an amalgamation of good and bad experiences. It is made up of opposites. You cannot just wish for one type of experience. Take them all in totality and keep moving ahead. Then only can you truly celebrate life.

Broadening your vision and 'worrying' about a larger cause will make you fearless. If you really want to worry, worry about something big. Worry about the betterment of society

634 pits to harvest rain water in parks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Special Commissioner Preeti Gehlot said that 634 wells have been constructed in parks under BBMP to collect rainwater and increase the groundwater level.

She said that 1,280 parks under the jurisdiction of the Corporation and Horticulture Department is taking appropriate steps to construct more such pits in a phased manner in the parks where ingot pits can be built.

In 2024-25, 634 recharge pits, each measuring 12-foot-long and 5-foot-wide were installed and plans have been made to construct around 1000 such pits in the parks. These pits are designed to collect and filter rainwater, reducing waste while enhancing groundwater recharge. They have a capacity to hold 4000 litres of rainwater.

A steel mesh at the entrance prevents debris from flowing into it, allowing 80% of the water to percolate through a cement ring, which thus increases the water table in the parks.

TOEFL candidates can now register within 5 mins

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO streamline the registration process for the Internet-based Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL iBT), Educational Testing Service (ETS) has introduced a faster and more efficient system, allowing candidates to complete registration in under five minutes.

Effective from October 1, the new system features a simplified six-step process aimed at improving the overall experience for test takers worldwide, including those in India. The six steps include creating an account, selecting one or two tests, choosing test dates and times, entering personal information, opting for or declining test preparation materials, and completing the payment.

The process eliminates previous steps such as selecting score recipients and additional information gathering, which can now be done later, providing a smoother experience for test takers. With this, ETS aims to make the TOEFL more accessible and user-friendly for students, particularly in India. ETS has also implemented several initiatives to support Indian students including test fee cashback, merit scholarships based on TOEFL scores, and the TOEFL TestReady platform, which uses AI to create personalised study plans.

Garbage: Issue notices to site owners, BDA told

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta, which has taken up a suo motu case in connection with mindless dumping of garbage on vacant sites, ordered Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) to issue notices to site owners for not keeping their sites clean.

After hearing officials of BDA, BBMP and Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Limited (BSWML) in connection with the maladministration case taken up regarding garbage issues in Rajarajeshwari Nagar, the Lokayukta ordered BDA to issue notice to site owners in Sir M Visvesvaraya Layout.

It has come to light that collection, transportation and disposal of garbage is not as effective in Sir Visvesvaraya Layout as in other parts of RR Nagar Zone. BBMP pointed out that although the layout has not yet been handed over to BBMP, it is collecting garbage in the layout, and the dues payable towards service fee undertaken are not paid by BDA. Following this, the Lokayukta directed BDA to settle the issue within two weeks and file a report.

BDA officials have been directed to issue notice to owners of vacant sites where garbage is strewn, and bushes and vegetation have overgrown, causing nuisance to inhabitants of the locality. These site owners must clean up their properties or bear the expenses for BBMP cleaning their sites.

Further, BDA was directed to ensure that proper streetlights are installed and maintained in the layout, which is yet to be handed over to BBMP. The Chief Commissioner, BBMP, has been directed to provide proper manpower and support staff and also auto tippers to address the problem of black spots and collection of waste in Sir MV Layout.

RAMAIAH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY CELEBRATES 16TH GRAD DAY CEREMONY

Bengaluru: A total of 1,433 students across various disciplines were awarded provisional degrees during the 16th Graduation Day Ceremony of Ramaiah Institute of Technology (RIT) on Wednesday. Principal of RIT Dr NVR Naidu highlighted the achievements of the graduating class, comprising 1,080 BE, 75 B.Arch, 103 M.Tech, 11 M.Arch, 111 MBA, and 53 MCA graduates. He announced that 44 students had secured ranks in undergraduate programmes, while 17 students achieved ranks in postgraduate programmes. Chief Guest, Y Narahari, Professor at the Department of Computer Science and Automation, IISc encouraged graduates to explore new opportunities and emerge as leaders, stressing the importance of stepping out of comfort zones, avoiding shortcuts, and shunning instant gratification. He urged the graduates to focus on hard work, determination, dedication, devotion, passion, and sincerity.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

10th October: I am often asked questions about astrology and diet. The truth is that it is difficult to generalise, and I tend to believe that we each have to work out what is best for us as individuals. For example, those of use born with very fiery charts might need to quieten down with mild food, and those of us with bland charts might need to liven up with hot spices!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The fact that Mercury has been setting up several relationships, only to change its mind at the last moment, indicates that a promised contact may fail to bear fruit unless you take emergency action, completing vital arrange-ments on your own authority.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You'll be in the fast lane today - although not too fast, let's hope! You may find that irritations connected to a worldly or financial ambition disrupt your attempts to relax. If your responsibilities are of an informal and flexible nature, then so much the better.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercury is making a very rare alignment with Jupiter, suggesting that you will only get by if you have as broad an appreciation of the facts as possible. All your past experiences, no matter how trivial, could now help you to victory.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The winds of change seem to have slackened off a little, although I would advise you against dropping your guard. Complacency is the Cancerian's worst enemy at the present time - especially if you forget just how sensitive close partners can be.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A change, it is said, is as good as a rest. Now that the Sun, your planetary ruler, is cruising through laid-back Pisces, why don't you push onerous responsibilities to one side and put your feet up. One thing though - don't take foolish financial risks.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Ever since Mercury altered its position you have been dreaming up new schemes to make your work-load easier. It should now become clear to all but the most obstinate Virgo that part of the answer lies in co-operation with people you have badly misjudged.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Don't worry if you have a difficult day, as the evening should be considerably more to your liking. The whole point is that you've had enough of partners' or family members' endless demands and complaints. Isn't it time they praised you instead? I think so!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The news that your two celestial rulers, Mars and Pluto, are so finely positioned, can only do you good. What's more, in the long run, life can only get better. Yet tread carefully, for decisions you make now, especially financial ones, will have a major impact in a couple of weeks.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Just when you thought all was lost, a new scheme is likely to pop into your head. You should be open and ready to accept whatever happens, and also prepared to take the flak when people realise what you're up to. Stand by your guns and stick up for the truth.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This really is the lull before the storm. Yet unlike some previous battles this one will be firmly rooted in specific issues, such as money. Not only that, but this time you will have a number of important allies on your side. One of the chief of these is your own confidence!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Nobody can accuse you of being blinkered, but the Moon inclines you to ignore those facts or elementary truths which don't happen to suit you. If you can get away with taking no notice of the facts, well done! But, if you can't, then you'd better take good care!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You have a number of excellent ideas, but it does seem as if one or two doubts are also surfacing. This is all to the good. What I mean by this is that if you develop the power to criticise your own actions, you'll be able to cut out certain of your weaknesses.

THE police arrested a-28-year-old man after he allegedly raped a woman under the pretext of marriage. The victim filed a complaint against him and his parents at the Govindapura police station.

The accused has been identified as Bilal Rafique, hailing from Kerala.

According to the police, the victim, a nursing staff in a private hospital in Hebbal, hailing from Chhattisgarh was in a live relationship with Rafique, who met her on social media in 2021. After communicating over the phone, they fell in love. Rafique, who promised to marry her, forced her into sexual intercourse twice. Both times, when she became pregnant, he pressured her to have an abortion. In 2024, when she became pregnant for the third time, the victim forced him to marry her and both their families agreed. However, the accused refused to marry her stating that she belonged to a lower caste and threatened her.

After the dispute, the accused absconded to Kerala, police said. The police arrested the accused on Monday.

3, including Pak citizen, acquitted of terror charges

HC division bench modifies conviction orders of special court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka has acquitted all three accused, including a Pakistan citizen, of charges of terror activities under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act based on the evidence given by the then principal secretary of the Home Department.

The then principal secretary Raghavendra Auradkar stated that "he could not remember whether the review committee was there or not" when he passed the sanction order to enable the special court for NIA cases to take cognisance of the offences against them.

Referring to Auradkar's evidence given during the cross-examination before the special court, the high court said his evidence makes two aspects clear, either the materials collected during the investigation might not have been referred to the review committee for recommending sanction or if referred, the report might not have been placed before the sanctioning authority. Thus, the sanction order loses its sanctity. The special court missed this aspect. Therefore, conviction of all the accused for offences under Sections 13, 17, 18 and 18B of UAPA cannot be sustained, the high court said, while passing an order to deport the Pakistan citizen after his release from Gulbarga jail.

The acquitted are Syed Abdul Rehman and Afsar Pasha alias Khushiruddin, residents of Bengaluru, and Mohammed Fahad Hi alias Mohammed Koya, the citizen of Pakistan.

A division bench of Justice Sreenivas Harish Kumar and Justice J M Khazi passed the order by modifying the orders of conviction and sentence dated February 23, 2023, and March 3, 2023, respectively passed by the Special Court for NIA Cases in the city, which were questioned by the accused by filing appeal before the division bench.

14 MORE PAKISTANIS ARRESTED

Bengaluru: Fourteen more Pakistanis staying illegally in different parts of the country were arrested by the Jigani police on Tuesday, when they came to support the Pakistan nationals who were arrested in the city recently. The police said that after the arrest of Parvez, who allegedly helped the Pakistanis obtain fake documents to stay in India, supporters of the Mehdi Foundation International arrived from different parts of the country to support him and the two Pakistani families which were arrested earlier. They were detained by the police on suspicion and were arrested after they found out that they were also Pakistanis staying illegally using fake identities. All the arrested individuals are linked to MFI, which promotes the Goharian philosophy of divine love. In total, 21 Pakistanis were arrested by the police since last week. Senior police officers said that the Intelligence Bureau is also questioning the accused, along with the local police.

5 embezzle ₹70cr by creating fake docs, held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Seshadripuram police have arrested five persons in connection with the embezzling of Rs 70 crore in compensation for land by creating false documents related to a six-acre land in Challaghatta near Kengeri. The police registered a case based on a complaint by DySP Mallesh of the BDA Vigilance Division. The complaint was filed against 19 people, including government officials from BDA and the Revenue Department. The police have issued notice to the suspected government officers. Some officials are said to have gone incommunicado by switching off their mobile phones.

The arrested are Srinivas, Nagaraj, Ravi Kumar, Bharath, and Swamy. "Among the accused, Nagaraj has been taken into police custody while the remaining are remanded in judicial custody," HT Shekhar, DCP (Central), said.

Accused Puttamma, Gangamma, Lakshmamma, Asha and the arrested five along with other private persons allegedly created fake documents and sought compensation even though they were not legitimate owners. Moodalappa, the original land owner, is said to have passed away in 1976. After his death, there were disputes pertaining to the property since 1992.

The accused government officers are alleged to have prepared an ambiguous report stating that the land was eligible for compensation without scrutiny of documents. The bank account was opened in Puttamma's name in January, 2021 for transferring the compensation.

A 35-year-old woman is battling for life, following a gruesome attack by her husband while she was asleep on Tuesday morning. The victim's two minor daughters, who witnessed the attack are reportedly in severe shock.

The accused, who has been nabbed in a swift operation, attacked her with a machete suspecting her fidelity. The woman is undergoing treatment in a private hospital at Madiwala. The complaint was registered at Suddaguntepalya police by the accused's 58-year-old mother. The accused has been booked for attempt to murder under section 109 of BNS.

The victim Anitha Mary was attacked at her house in Bhavani Nagar by her husband Santosh Kumar. Anitha, who works in a private insurance company had been undergoing harassment for the last seven years. Unable to bear his harassment, she had shifted along her two daughters six months ago without Kumar's notice.

However Kumar, who managed to track his wife, moved in to her new residence. Fearing an attack on her daughter-in-law, Kumar's mother Shantha Mary was also staying with them.

The Subramanyapura police had also registered a case against Kumar for attacking his wife a few months back, when they were staying in Uttarahalli.

"Anitha was rushed to the hospital by the neighbours in an auto. Kumar, who was earlier working as a salesman in an electronics show room, had stopped going to work for the last two years. He allegedly attacked her earlier with an iron rod, and the Subramanyapura police had registered a case in this regard," an officer said. Further investigations are on.

CHANGE OF GUARD? CONG BRASS REINS IN MINISTERS

Swift devpts within party lead to situation of "anything" can happen; Curbs placed on personal meetings

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

AMID speculation over leadership change and PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi meeting leaders to gather support, the party high command has intervened as a damage control measure.

Perturbed by the developments, KPCC president and DCM DK Shivakumar reported to AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge, who in turn suggested that AICC General Secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal control the damage, according to sources.

Venugopal dialled Shivakumar, following which he met Siddaramaiah at the latter's residence Cauvery. The trio discussed the issue and came to the conclusion that no minister, including Satish, should hold separate meetings with party leaders as it sends a wrong message.

"Satish projecting himself as the next CM has only damaged Siddaramaiah and the government. There will be no scope for change in the CM's post until Siddaramaiah finishes his two-and-half year term. The ED cannot arrest him in the MUDA case," a Congress leader who is close to both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, told TNIE. However, swift political developments within the ruling Congress over a change of guard have manifested in a situation that "anything" can happen in the near future. Siddaramaiah's confidant Satish held parleys with two other Dalit leaders – Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara, Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa in Bengaluru, Tumakuru and also in Mysuru. It gave an indication that Siddaramaiah's coterie of ministers is gearing up for an impending change.

Satish managed to convince Dalit leaders to continue the mission by visiting MLAs and taking them into confidence; he met Chikkamagaluru MLA HD Thammaiah on Wednesday. Thammaiah, a Veerashaiva Lingayat, had defeated CT Ravi, a Vokkaliga, with the polarisation of Ahinda votes. His statement indicated that some MLAs who are with Siddaramaiah are also aligning with Satish. The turn of events disturbed Shivakumar, who sought the high command's intervention.

Shivakumar is not ready to accept Siddaramaiah's coterie's proposal of a change in guard. He wants the CM's post to come to him, if Siddaramaiah resigns after 2.5 years. He knows that if a Dalit leader becomes CM in the meantime, transition of power would be difficult, analysts said. Shivakumar is standing solidly behind Siddaramaiah to continue as CM, as he needs his backing to reclaim the party's hold on Old Mysuru region, and also propose younger brother DK Suresh as Congress candidate for the Channapatna bypoll, a source said.

PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi inaugurates road development works in Tarikere of Chikkamagaluru district on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Nothing political about meeting C'magaluru MLA: Satish

CHIKKAMAGALURU: PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi on Wednesday clarified that he had visited Chikkamagaluru MLA HD Thammaiah on his invitation to know the extent of road damage caused by heavy rain, while substantiating that there is nothing political about his visit. Speaking to reporters, Satish quipped, "I came to lay the foundation for road development works undertaken in the Tarikere Assembly constituency, and since Thammaiah appealed to me to visit Chikkamagaluru on the way, I am here. Where there are politicians, there is bound to be politics." To a question on the change of guard in the state, Satish replied that he had already given statements in this regard in Mysuru and Bengaluru, and there is no need to give more answers, simply because leaders of the Opposition are critical. He further clarified that there is no need for Siddaramaiah to step down, and he will continue as the chief minister. However, political analysts suggested that there is more than meets the eye behind Satish's visit to the MLA's house, as the minister has been meeting party leaders lately. ENS

Cabinet may take up mining cases today

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE Cabinet, at its meeting on Thursday, is expected to deliberate on giving extension to the Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing illegal mining activities. The SIT's term, which is nearing expiration, is likely to be extended, a move that could intensify pressure on the opposition, particularly BJP and JDS. Leaders like Union Minister and JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy, BJP leader Anand Singh and Janadhan Reddy face serious charges.

One prominent figure is JDS leader and Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy, who has been under scrutiny for his alleged involvement in two significant scandals: the Sri Sai Venkateshwara Minerals (SSVM) acam and Jantakal mining scam. The SSVM case, with allegations of criminal conspiracy and cheating, have placed Kumaraswamy in a precarious position. He is the second accused in the SSVM case, a scandal linked to government corruption and public trust breaches that date back a decade.

The Cabinet is also expected to consider the findings of the Justice Michael Cunha judicial inquiry into the Covid scam. The inquiry's recommendations and potential actions will be discussed during the meeting. The Covid scam inquiry had pointed to serious corruption in the purchase of equipment and medicines during the previous BJP regime, in the report submitted recently. The committee had recommended criminal cases against those responsible for misappropriation.

OTHER DECISIONS ON ANVIL

- A key item on the agenda is a proposal to decongest the city by establishing an integrated Karnataka Housing Board township in Nelamangala. The Rs 2,500-crore project is aimed at easing pressure on the city's infrastructure, and KHB has already conducted preliminary discussions regarding the plan.
- The cabinet will also take up the issue of tourism, with the government considering a new tourism policy for the period 2024-29. The tourism department had taken it up for discussion and framed certain guidelines; the cabinet could look into this and approve it.
- The skill development corporation which has helped those seeking employment by imparting skills which have provided short-term vocational training to more than 60,000 candidates annually, is expected to be given the status of a company, the minister had been seeking this.

QUOTA CLASSIFICATION

BJP plans counter, as CM prepares to decide on caste census

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

WITH the Chief Minister Siddaramaiah cabinet prepared to take a decision on the implementation of the socioeconomic survey, also known as the caste census, carried out by the Backward Classes Commission, the Opposition Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has chalked out a plan to counter the government, by demanding that classification of Scheduled Caste quota be implemented.

"If they (Congress government) have a conscience, they should implement the internal reservation for the SC community, with the Supreme Court also having given its verdict... as the state can take a decision and even Prime Minister Narendra Modi is in favour," said Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka on Wednesday.

He further claimed that the previous Basavaraj Bommai government had increased quota for SCs by 2 per cent, from 15 per cent to 17 per cent, and STs to 7 per cent, from 4 per cent, proportionate to their populations.

As the government's move to implement the caste census would impress the SCs, STs, OBCs, and the minorities, concerned leaders across party-lines, including BJP MLC N Ravikumar, have urged for the data to be released. The BJP wants to pinpoint that the Congress is averse to a major section of the Scheduled Caste community, by keeping the classification of the quota on hold for several decades, suggest sources.

The 6 per cent of the SC (Left) community was reportedly miffed with the Congress over the issue, and the BJP, by raking it up, could alienate the Grand Old Party further from the community, they added.

Congress-ruled states

Even as the social welfare department prepared the draft in this regard on the lines of the Bommai cabinet's decision to classify the quota, the Siddaramaiah cabinet deferred it. The reason being the Congress high command, especially the Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, who wants to take credit for the classification of the SC quota, sources said.

Since he has been in an attempt to impress upon the Dalits, Rahul wants the classification of SC quota to be implemented simultaneously in Congress-ruled states, including Telangana, sources said.

Telangana was eager to implement the classification of the SC quota, as soon as the Supreme Court gave its judgment on August 1, 2024. But the Congress high command advised the government to defer it for some time and Karnataka too has faced a similar situation, observed a Congress leader from the SC community.

ST leaders meet CM, seek funds

ENS @ Bengaluru

AT a time when ST Nayaka community leader and PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi appears to be projecting himself as the next chief minister, the community's religious heads and MLAs met Chief Minister Siddaramaiah here on Wednesday.

They discussed the alleged Rs 187.33-crore scam in the ST Development Corporation that rocked the government a few months ago, and led to the resignation of community leader B Nagendra, who resigned as ST Welfare minister and went to jail. The ED filed a chargesheet in court on Wednesday, mentioning him as the mastermind in the scam.

However, community leaders appealed to the CM to release grants to the ST Development Corporation immediately, to ensure implementation of schemes for the beneficiaries. They also urged the CM to take steps to check the menace of vested interests getting fake ST certificates by falsely claiming that they hail from the 'Talavar' community.

Sri Prasannanandapuri Mahaswami, president of Rajanahalli Valmiki Gurpeeth near Harihar, MLAs BM Nagaraja, T Raghumurthy, Basanagowda Thurvihala, Raja Venugopal Nayak, Dr Srinivasa, former Karnataka Public Service Commission member GT Chandrasekharappa and other leaders were part of the delegation that met the CM. Siddaramaiah, who holds the ST Welfare portfolio after Nagendra resigned, responded positively, and promised to resolve the ST community's grievances by calling a meeting immediately.

Munirathna laid honey-trap for two ex-CMs: Rape survivor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE woman who filed a rape case against Rajarajeshwari Nagar BJP MLA Munirathna, dropped a bombshell on Wednesday, alleging that he had honey-trapped two former chief ministers of Karnataka to get a cabinet berth.

Addressing a press conference here on Wednesday, she claimed that if the government gives her protection, she would submit the evidence, including videos pertaining to the honey trap of the two former chief ministers, to the Special Investigation Team probing cases registered against him.

"Five to six women have been used for this honey trap. Munirathna had harassed and blackmailed both the former CMs to become minister," she alleged.

"The MLA has used many women to honey trap senior police officers, former ministers and even MLAs. Of these women, four are HIV-infected. The MLA and his two relatives have advanced cameras which no media house has, and use the cameras to film victims," the woman said.

Mobile phones were never used, she said, adding that six to seven women were exploited by the MLA.

'No movie actors'

Urging these women to come forward and expose Munirathna, she said that none of the women used in the honey trap were movie actors.

The startling revelation was made by the 40-year-old social worker from the city, who has filed a rape complaint against Munirathna in Kaggalipura police station of Ramanagara district, following which the MLA was arrested.

Maldives ideal for Indian investment: Muizzu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MALDIVES President Dr Mohamed Muizzu on Wednesday emphasised the importance of India-Maldives collaboration in achieving a digital and sustainable future for his country.

He was speaking at the India-Maldives Business Forum in Bengaluru.

President Dr Muizzu and and First Lady Sajidha Mohamed arrived in Bengaluru on Wednesday morning by a special flight from New Delhi on a two-day visit.

He said Maldives could benefit from ICT collaborations by leveraging Bengaluru's expertise and suggested that stronger ties with educational institutions and tech companies could enhance technological resilience and bridge the digital gap.

He stressed that the Maldives offers an ideal environment for Indian investment, given its proximity and shared cultural and economic ties, along with a favourable business climate. He invited Indian investors to explore opportunities in renewable energy and other sectors and emphasised that their expertise could foster a sustainable future, boost the Maldivian economy, and support global climate action.

During the business forum, he underscored his administration's efforts to expand the digital economy, according to a press release.

Earlier in the day, during his visit to Raj Bhavan, President Muizzu expressed his desire to enhance cooperation, particularly in education and tourism. Acknowledging the large number of Maldivian students in Karnataka, he emphasised the importance of mutual development efforts in both nations.

He thanked the Government of India for its generous hospitality and stated that discussions during his state visit have been constructive.

Welcoming the President and First Lady, Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot highlighted the deep-rooted friendship between India and the Maldives, noting the President's recent meetings with key Indian leaders, including the President, Vice President, and Prime Minister. "These engagements have further solidified the cordial relations between our two nations," he said.

The Governor emphasised the Maldives' significant role in India's "Neighbourhood First" and "SAGAR" (Security and Growth for All in the Region) initiatives. He praised the currency swap agreement as a testament to the strong economic cooperation between the two countries and celebrated recent developments such as the launch of the RuPay card in the Maldives, expanded air connectivity, and enhanced visa facilities.

"We are optimistic about the opening of an Indian consulate in Addu City, Maldives, and a Maldivian consulate in Bengaluru. These initiatives will promote closer ties, especially in tourism," the Governor stated.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said he was given to understand that the government of Maldives is interested in having partnerships with the leading IT industry of Bengaluru. "We will be happy to facilitate the growth of IT industry in Maldives," the CM said. "I am pleased to note that the First Lady was a student in Bengaluru," the CM added.

The CM said they look forward to strengthening the trade ties, particularly in promoting Karnataka's handloom and handicraft industries to the Maldivian tourism market.

Poll results: Kashmiris in B'luru optimistic, welcome change

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

REACTING to the Jammu and Kashmir Assembly election results which were announced on Tuesday, Kashmiris who call Bengaluru home said the first thing they expect from the new government, which will take office in the next few days, is to maintain pressure on the Centre to restore the Union Territory's special status under Article 370, apart from returning it its statehood.

Hakim Wasim, a Kashmiri who has lived in the city for over 15 years, said Kashmiris also want the Opposition in Jammu and Kashmir to talk to the government at the Centre, to ensure that the aspirations of the Valley are realised.

A senior journalist with a Delhi-based channel operating in Bengaluru, said that as a Kashmiri staying outside of Kashmir for almost two decades, he sees the election results as a positive development for the Union Territory. "Now people will have their say and not the bureaucrats' voice. After the abrogation of Article 370, people felt left out since they didn't have their representatives to carry their voice. Since the National Conference has got a decisive mandate, it is their responsibility to fulfil the promises they have made during their election campaign," the journalist said.

Zahid Bazaz, a private sector employee residing in Bengaluru for the last 20 years, said the mandate is good for the people of Kashmir. "I am happy to see change. Lots of young people are in the Assembly. They should ensure that the promises made to people during the election campaign are fulfilled," he said. When asked about the perception about security concerns in the Kashmir Valley, and many people moving to other parts of the country, looking for opportunities, he said the government cannot provide jobs for all, and people have to look for opportunities elsewhere. "This phenomenon is not limited to Kashmir. People move out looking for better opportunities across India. As far as Kashmir is concerned, last year, one crore tourists visited. The Valley is a paradise. Now footfalls from the Southern states have also increased," added Bazaz.

COURT ORDERS PROBE AGAINST PINARAYI ON CONG LEADER'S PLEA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE Ernakulam Chief Judicial Magistrate Court has ordered an inquiry against Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan for his remarks on the assault on Youth Congress workers, during a Nava Kerala Sadas rally last year. The inquiry was ordered on the basis of a complaint filed by Ernakulam DCC President Mohammed Shiyas.

In November last year, YC workers were beaten up by DYFI workers for waving black flags at the vehicle carrying the CM to a venue of Nava Kerala Sadas, the government's ambitious public outreach programme. The next day, Pinarayi had defended the DYFI workers, saying they were trying to save the lives of the YC activists by preventing them from jumping in front of the vehicle.

In his petition, Shiyas alleged Pinarayi's remarks incited criminal activities and hence, a case had to be registered against him. He said following his remark, YC workers were attacked regularly. The court, while considering the petition on October 3, ordered the Ernakulam Central police to conduct an investigation and file a report on December 7.

"The address of the accused is beyond territorial jurisdiction of this court. Therefore as per Section 202(1) of CrPC, issuance of process is postponed. The station house officer, Ernakulam Central police station, is directed to conduct investigation as per Section 202(1) CrPC on the allegation," said the court diary. Police said they are awaiting for the court's direction. They said an inquiry will be conducted into the complaint and a report filed in court, based on which a decision would be taken on registering an FIR.

M'LURU BIZMAN SUICIDE: 3 MORE HELD

MANGALURU: Mangaluru city police have arrested three more persons, including the mastermind, behind businessman B M Mumtaz Ali's suicide. Abdul Sattar from Krishnapura, the key conspirator was arrested from Belagavi while trying to escape to Maharastra. Mustafa and Shafi were the other arrested accused. The main accused Rehmath and her husband Shoaib were arrested on Tuesday. SL Navy arrests 21 fishermen for 'trespassing'

PUDUKKOTTAI (TAMIL NADU): A total of 21 fishermen from the district were arrested by the Sri Lankan navy on Wednesday evening for allegedly crossing the international maritime boundary line. The arrested fishermen hailing from Jegathapattinam and Kottaipattinam were part of around 1,000 who put out to sea in over 200 mechanised boats from the fishing harbours in the two localities that morning. The Sri Lankan navy apprehended the 21 fishermen on four boats while they were fishing near Neduntheevu of the island nation. The fishermen were taken to the Kankesanthurai naval base and sent to judicial custody on charges of crossing the IMBL, sources said. ENS

Kerala mulling spl law for Malayalam film industry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

THE Kerala government will bring in special legislation to ensure complete protection to all stakeholders in Malayalam film industry. This was informed by Cultural Affairs Minister Saji Cherian in the Assembly on Wednesday.

Raising the issue in the Assembly, IUML legislator Manjalamkuzhi Ali asked about the status of the government-constituted committee other than the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC). The cultural affairs minister also said that currently the law department is considering the recommendations towards formulating the new Bill.

"In the backdrop of the Justice Hema Committee report, the LDF government is planning to bring in a piece of legislation. The state government is also considering introducing ICCs in all film sets," said Saji Cherian. He also said that as per the directive of the High Court to the state government certain pages from the Justice Hema Committee report were removed and released. He was responding to a question raised by IUML legislator N Shamsudheen on the reason behind the delay in releasing the Justice Hema Committee report. Saji Cherian recalled that after the three-member Justice Hema Committee submitted its report to the CM, it was handed over to secretary of the cultural affairs department.

"The official was given the directive the report should not be given to anyone and that the Supreme Court's recommendations should be adhered to. Later, a RTI application came up before the state government. The Information Commissioner made a decision that privacy has to be maintained. Later when the HC intervened, it was decided that certain pages will have to be removed from the report before it is released," said Saji.

'Rs 20 crore scam money used to meet poll expenses'

THE ED probe revealed that based on Nagendra's direction, the bank account of the corporation was shifted to the MG Road branch without proper authorisation, where Rs 187 cr, including Rs 43.33 cr from the Treasury under the Ganga Kalyana Scheme, was deposited in violation of government norms. This money was subsequently siphoned off through multiple shell accounts and converted into cash and bullion, the release said.

The probe also revealed that Rs 20.19 cr of the diverted money was used to meet the expenses of a candidate, who contested the 2024 LS polls from Bellary. Part of this money was used by Nagendra. Evidence related to these expenditures was discovered during search and seizure operations. Details of the election expenses were retrieved from the mobile phone of Vijay Kumar Gowda, who handled the cash on Nagendra's instructions.

It's holiday season, beer sales shoot up in K'taka

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

IT'S the season to clink beer bottles, and the reasons are many, from the warm weather to the holiday season. Excise department officials say there has been a rise in beer sales compared to last year.

There is a 5.55% rise in overall liquor sales for the financial year 2024-25, compared to the last fiscal. Excise department records show a Rs 921.90 crore rise in liquor sales from April to September. "There has been a drastic rise in beer sales and a decline in sale of Indian Made Liquor (IML). Compared to the previous year, there has been a 14.90% rise in beer sales and 2% decline in sale of IML. In the past six months, beer sales have shot up, showing 15% growth. This is due to multiple factors including weather, cost, holidays and others," a senior excise department official told The New Indian Express.

However, the drop in IML sales is due to the price hike effected two months ago on premium and semi- premium brands, low production and stocks, the official said.

According to excise officials, IML sales from April-September in 2023-24 was 352.82 lakh carton boxes and for the same period in 2024-25, it was 345.76 lakh carton boxes. Similarly, sale of beer from April-September in 2023-24 was 211.25 lakh CBs, and for the same period in 2024-25, sales touched 242.73 lakh CBs. "Revenue collected from liquor sales from April-September 2023 was Rs 16,611.11 crore, while for the same period this year, it has been Rs 17,533.01 crore, marking a Rs 921.90 crore or 5.55% rise," the official said.

During the last fiscal, 48.15% of the target sales was achieved, and this year so far, 45.51% target sales has been achieved. The cumulative growth in April 2024 has been 28.84%, and the difference compared to April 2023 has been 11.13%. Similarly, in May, cumulative growth was 30.63% and the difference compared to May 2023 was 23.55%. In September, cumulative growth has been 14.90% and difference compared to September 2023 has been 31.48%, in the sale of CBs. Comparing month on month growth, for September 2023, 31.27 lakh CBs were sold, while in September 2024, 34.82 lakh CBs were sold, marking an 11.35% rise.

ELECTORS GIVE REALITY CHECKS TO CONGRESS, BJP IN ASSEMBLY POLLS

THE two latest assembly election results have delivered important lessons for the two main national parties—the BJP and the Congress. The electorate displayed wisdom by voting on issues that are critical not only for their daily lives but also for their long-term well-being. The outcomes have provided a significant boost to the BJP, placing it on a strong footing for the upcoming elections in Maharashtra and Jharkhand. The party not only scored a hat-trick in Haryana, but also achieved its best-ever performance in Jammu and Kashmir by winning 29 of the 90 seats. However, all of BJP's seats came from Jammu. The party's efforts to penetrate the complex socio-political landscape of the historically sensitive Kashmir Valley failed to bear fruit. The increase in total seats in Jammu from 37 to 43 through delimitation contributed to the historical high. On the other hand, the gains expected from the emergence of smaller parties in the valley did not materialise.

The valley has refused to embrace the BJP, indicating the party needs to recalibrate its strategy. Atal Bihari Vajpayee's mantra of winning the hearts of Kashmiris and strengthening the roots of peace through "insaniyat, jamhooriyat and Kashmiriyat" (humanitarianism, democracy and the Kashmiri way of life) could help illuminate the path forward. The division of the state into two Union territories emerged as a major electoral issue. Kashmiris voted resoundingly in favour of restoring statehood, helping the National Conference that campaigned aggressively on the issue to reach close to a majority on its own. PM Narendra Modi should now fulfil his promise of restoring statehood without delay. This would help build a bond of trust between the people of Kashmir and the BJP, and has the potential to start a new chapter in the troubled state's history.

The Congress, on the other hand, faced a stunning upset in Haryana and fared poorly in J&K, where it failed to effectively articulate its vision for peace and development. The party's lack of cohesion in Haryana coupled with the BJP's successful cobbling of a formidable caste coalition against the Jat-dominated opposition turned the tide in favour of the ruling party. Rather than blaming voting machines for its defeat, the Congress needs to introspect on its failure, build its organisation at the grassroots and bring its warring factions in the state together.

MICRO FIND WITH MEGA GENE THERAPY POTENTIAL

TWO US scientists, Victor Ambros and Gary Ruvkun, have won the 2024 Nobel prize in medicine for their discovery of microRNA—a new class of tiny ribonucleic acid (RNA) molecules that play a crucial role in gene regulation, unfolding how multicellular organisms live. Their work explains how cells develop into different types—such as those in muscles and nerves—although all cells in an individual contain the same set of genes and instructions for growth. More specifically, they discovered the role microRNA played in this process. RNA is essential for most biological functions, setting a template for production of proteins, the building blocks of all animal life. When a single-strand messenger RNA is decoded and translated into making proteins, microRNA comes into play.

Ruvkun describes microRNAs as a "communication network among genes", enabling our cells to generate complex structures and functions. Together, the two scientists have revealed a new principle of gene regulation that turns out to be essential for multicellular organisms. It is fundamental to how organisms develop and function. They found how a single microRNA can regulate the expression of many different genes, and conversely, how a single gene can be regulated by multiple microRNAs, thereby coordinating and fine-tuning entire networks of genes to contribute to cell formation, and in turn committing to form different organs, muscles and tissues in the body.

Modern medical professionals are increasingly familiar with genetic predisposition to diseases—the tendency of people developing particular diseases in the future based on their genetic makeup. Diabetes, heart disease, asthma, cancer and single-gene disorders are some of them. The Ambros-Ruvkun research reveals that cells and tissues cannot develop normally without microRNAs. The flipside: abnormal regulation by microRNA can contribute to cancers; mutations in genes coding for microRNAs can cause congenital hearing loss, eye and skeletal disorders; and mutations in a protein required for microRNA production can result in the DICER1 syndrome, a rare but severe syndrome linked to cancer. The medical science community considers this discovery a major breakthrough with far-reaching consequences including newer treatments—and, potentially, prevention—for a whole range of diseases through gene therapy. So the Nobel-winning find is a major shot in the arm for the medical fraternity in particular and humanity in general.

QUICK TAKE

FOR CHILDREN'S MENTAL HEALTH

THIS World Mental Health Day, let's rededicate ourselves to being empathetic to children's psychological challenges. We must not forget these young ones lived through a pandemic and are vulnerable to a range of stresses caused by alienation from peers and learning setbacks. The National Mental Health Survey of 2016 reported the prevalence of mental disorders among children aged 13-17 was 7.3 percent. Parents and teachers must learn how to spot early signs of such disorders, have continuing conversations with children about their feelings and plan appropriate activities. The government must decentralise more mental health services to the community level.

Not resuming bilateral dialogue with Pakistan may make sense for now, but not forever. It could be time to foster reciprocal approaches with our neighbour's provinces

OUT OF THE BOX & INTO PROVINCES ACROSS THE BORDER

K P NAYAR

Strategic analyst

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar's upcoming visit to Islamabad recalled to memory a statement by a former defence secretary who said only Punjabis negotiating on behalf of both India and Pakistan could find permanent solutions to disputes between the two countries.

The occasion, about 30 years ago, was a book release by a foreign secretary who had retired around the same time as this Punjabi defence secretary. Responding to this argument, the former foreign secretary, a Malayali, quoted Urdu poet Ghalib from the book being released: "Nuktacheen hai gham-e-dil usko sunaey na baney / Kya baney baat jahan baat banaye na baney." (The cogitations of my heart are so complex and convoluted; how can I explain them to my protagonist? How can I create a harmonious relationship when the impulses and motivations for it are not there?)

P V Narasimha Rao, then the prime minister, appeared to give the defence secretary's rationale an honest try. He picked R L Bhatia, minister of state for external affairs and an Amritsari, to break the ice with Pakistan and sent him on a visit to Islamabad. It came after a long hiatus in bilateral talks following the demolition of Babri Masjid. In the end, Bhatia's Islamabad visit amounted to nothing.

Bhatia told the Rajya Sabha subsequently that Pakistan was given another chance to engage India. That was when the foreign secretary went to Islamabad to take part in a meeting of the Commonwealth's senior officials in November 1994. "We had conveyed in advance to Pakistan through diplomatic channels that the foreign secretary would be available for any discussions, formally or informally, on bilateral issues. Pakistan, however, did not avail itself of the opportunity to resume the bilateral dialogue," Bhatia said.

Jaishankar's clarification last week that he was not going to Islamabad to discuss India-Pakistan relations is a familiar case of history repeating itself on one side or the other. When Jaishankar said "I am a courteous and civil person, I will behave myself accordingly" in Islamabad, what he meant was that there will be a handshake between him and Pakistan's Foreign Minister Mohammad Ishaq Dar.

There was a time when Indian and Pakistani leaders refused to shake each other's hands if they came across one another. That period of mutual incivility after the Kargil intrusion and the December 2001 terrorist attack on parliament ended a year later at the SAARC summit in Kathmandu. After finishing his address to South Asian heads of state and government, General Pervez Musharraf took everyone by surprise when he walked towards Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee with an extended hand. Vajpayee got up from his seat and took Musharraf's hand.

But Vajpayee was cutting when his turn came to speak. Departing from his prepared text, Vajpayee said: "I am glad that President Musharraf extended a hand of friendship to me. I have shaken his hand in your presence. Now President Musharraf must follow this gesture by not permitting any activity in Pakistan or any territory it controls today which enables terrorists to perpetrate mindless violence in India."

SOURAV ROY

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Jaishankar are right in not wanting to resume bilateral dialogue with Pakistan at this stage. It will be a wasteful exercise. Even though there will be no talks with Dar or anyone else of similar standing across the border—as of now—there will be a spring in Jaishankar's steps in Islamabad. The largely peaceful conduct of assembly elections in Jammu and Kashmir and the impressive voter turnout have significantly added to the credit column of Pakistan diplomacy in South Block, the seat of the ministry of external affairs. Because the BJP did not win outright in the Union territory, there will be greater credibility for the poll process, unlike the notorious, rigged assembly elections in 1987, for instance.

All the same, not engaging Pakistan cannot be a permanent policy. The government's position that talks and terrorism cannot go hand in hand is appealing to the Indian masses, but it will not cut ice with the international community forever. The world is moving on—the long strife in Northern Ireland has ended, Timor-Leste is independent and at peace, the Balkans are no longer seeing genocide, nor is Rwanda, to give some of many contemporary examples.

If India is to claim its rightful place as a responsible big power in the long run or take its permanent seat at the horseshoe table in the United Nations Security Council chamber, it must solve its disputes with Pakistan. At least, it must be seen to be doing something about it. That is what diplomats are for, juxtaposed with rabble-rousing, vote-seeking politicians. Jaishankar must think out of the box sooner than later about what to do with Pakistan, since routine steps have been tried and have failed.

State policy in Islamabad and Rawalpindi, the Army General Headquarters, towards India is unlikely to change. It can only harden with domestic politics in the northern neighbourhood rapidly descending from a sump into a cesspool. Caught up in daily efforts to stop bloodshed from cross-border terrorism and neutralise plots almost weekly, India's policymakers have never sufficiently acknowledged that Pakistan is not a monolith in the way it views India. The people of Balochistan have a lot of affection for India owing to the region's history. Residents of Sind have more in common with Gujarat and Maharashtra than they have with the rest of Pakistan.

It is time to break down a comprehensive Pakistan policy into reciprocal approaches towards its provinces. If it has been done in the past, it has been limited, by way of outreaches to the Muttahida Qaumi Movement in Karachi and Baloch nationalists. Their objective has been to corner Islamabad. These outreaches have to be widened.

India must have a contingency plan for the dangerous eventuality of a break-up of Pakistan in view of its ongoing siege within. Indians could envisage living in peace with the people of Sind and Balochistan if Rawalpindi's veto on India policy is weakened. Maybe, as the former defence secretary said three decades ago, Punjabis on both sides of the border could then negotiate their own people-to-people relations through border trade and a shared heritage.

WHY KARNATAKA'S POLITICAL PILOTS CAN'T AVOID TURBULENCE

SANDEEP SHASTRI

Political scientist, National Coordinator of the Lokniti Network, and Director (academics) at the NITTE Education Trust

KARNATAKA politics has become familiar with tumult. Over the last four decades, less than two years after every new government has settled into office with fanfare, it has gotten caught in crossfires regarding visible misgovernance, allegations of corruption, waves of political instability or challenges to leadership. It has often been a combination of these factors.

Siddaramaiah's 16-month-old government faces multi-track challenges despite being given a clear mandate by voters. The same happened to Ramakrishna Hegde in the mid-1980s, followed by three Congress chief ministers within a span of five years (1989-94), which were succeeded by Janata Dal coming to power and witnessing frequent splits (1994-99). All of this was followed by a Congress government headed by S M Krishna (1999-2004) that went into a tailspin with brigand Veerappan's abduction of veteran actor Rajkumar.

This was followed by coalition instability (2004-08) and a BJP government with three chief ministers that had to manage with the support of independents (2008-13). This made way for a Congress government headed by Siddaramaiah (2013-18) and a return to another five-year phase that saw three chief ministers heading coalition governments, and a majority by switchovers (2018-23). Now, there seem to be portents of history repeating itself.

Governance in the state seems to have taken a backseat with the chief minister being engulfed by the Mysore Urban Development Authority land allotment scandal and the government having to answer several uncomfortable questions on a range of other issues. The CM is clearly on the backfoot, attempting to stave off one googly after another. Some would argue that it is a matter of time before the Congress would need to consider a leadership change.

The timing of such a change is the focus of immense speculation. The party would clearly not want to give the impression that it has buckled to opposition pressures. It would build a case for a new leadership as a mid-course change of guard to take forward the promises made in the last election and ensure a well-crafted 'image make-over' as it completes the rest of its term. Yet, there are a spate of internal challenges the party would need to resolve. An honourable exit for the present incumbent would be the first.

In his second term as chief minister, Siddaramaiah represents a style of politics uniquely different from those who have had their political career within the framework of the Congress. Siddaramaiah also represents the backward castes and as an Ahinda (a Kannada acronym for minorities, backward classes and Dalits) leader, has a great deal of traction in the wider politics that the Congress is pursuing at a national level. This factor was key to his return to the chief ministership in 2023. While the developments in the last few months have clearly dented his standing, the party would need to strategise with caution before taking any action.

Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar would see himself as the natural successor—given his backing out of the race in 2024, a lot would depend on the stand the Congress high command chooses to take. While many state leaders of the Congress have made it clear that they see themselves as potential candidates, it could well be political posturing for a better position in the event of missing out on the leadership if there were to be any change. The stand of the incumbent chief minister on the matter will also be crucial.

If the ruling Congress faces its own dilemmas, the leading opposition party, the BJP, appears to be a divided house. It appears not to have recovered from its defeat in the 2023 assembly polls. While the Lok Sabha polls saw it get a majority of the seats in the state, it was nowhere to its 2019 numbers. The factions within the state unit are out in the open and the BJP central leadership appears to be unwilling to step in and broker peace.

Its alliance with the JDS is yet another matter of concern for the BJP state unit. While it may have helped keep the Congress at bay in the Lok Sabha polls, in the long run, this alliance could well undercut the BJP. The Lokniti-CSDS post-poll study in 2024 indicated that while the BJP improved its vote share among the Lingayats and the non-dominant backward castes, it did not do as well as it anticipated among the other dominant caste, the Vokkaligas.

There is also a growing impression at the state level that Kumaraswamy appears to have gained more political visibility as compared to his BJP counterparts in the Union council of ministers. The Old Mysore region would see a lot of political adjustments and negotiations in the event of the BJP-JDS alliance continuing.

The crucial by-elections to the state legislature that is soon due will be a crucial test for the ruling party as well as the opposition alliance. While the results may not dramatically alter the respective party position in the house, it could well indicate a churning in state politics. Karnataka politics is truly at a crossroads and a critical juncture. The road ahead seems strewn with many agonising 'ifs' and tantalising 'buts'. October could well see major developments in the politics of the state.

Exit poll pundits appeared to have 'erred' in Haryana but 'succeeded' in J&K. In Haryana, the BJP won a record 3rd consecutive victory. LIKE SANKARA AWARD FOR EVR PERIYAR?

S GURUMURTHY
Editor, Thuglak Tamil Magazine.
Chairman, Vivekananda International Foundation Strategic Think Tank

IMAGINE Bhagwan Mahaveer Award for promoting vegetarianism is given to a butcher—a Jain by accident of birth who says the Bhagwan is a hoax. By a jury that has no reverence for the Bhagwan. And the apostate butcher proudly accepts the award in the name of the apostle. How humiliated his Jain devotees will be? Apologies to Jains for taking the Bhagwan's name for a fictional analogy. Similarly, devotees of Carnatic music to whom it is not just an art but divine and sacred, have been hurt and humiliated in Tamil Nadu. Here unfolds the sordid story.

MS — "Greatest Hoax", "Barbie doll", "Sexy" to infatuated eyes?

"A young aspiring musician told me MS Subbulakshmi is the greatest hoax of the twentieth century".

Who declared, on an anonymous testimony, M S Subbulakshmi as the greatest hoax?

"We have never thought of her music as being worthy of any serious investigation. What is there to say? We treat her [MS Subbulakshmi] like a saintly Barbie doll. Yet we duped the outside world into thinking we revere her."

Who described MS as a saintly Barbie doll?

"Isn't it astounding that we will all agree that MS has been one of the most beautiful musicians in the Indian classical musical scene, but the word sexual has never been used in the context of describing her....Let me make it clear I am not referring to her inner beauty. She was what my daughter's generation would call sexy."

Who saw MS as sexy, not her inner beauty?

"Let any honest man besotted with her beauty deny that his fascination had to do with her looks as with her music and that Cupid played with her darts wherever she went. The Smarta Brahmin kattu [a specific style of wearing sari] has never looked more fetching, been more alluring than on the daughter of Madurai Shanmugavadivu. She was a diva, yet we are unable to openly celebrate her physicality, even in 2016."

Who spoke about men besotted — meaning "blindly, utterly infatuated" — with MS' beauty? And said Cupid — Greek God of Erotic Love — played with MS wherever she went? Not so much her music. Who's this misogynist — to use the modern term liberals quite often use to brand other men who they think demeaned women?

> TMK, who declared MS the greatest hoax, described her as a saintly Barbie doll and spoke of men besotted more with her looks than her music, is the proud recipient of the Sangita Kalanidhi MS Subbulakshmi Award for 2024

MS award — for abusing, demeaning, hating her?

It is no congenital Brahmin hater E V Ramaswami Naicker (EVR) or his disciples, nor the DK clones in the DMK, who continue to hate all the good work the Brahmins did and do, all their Gods, icons, literature, worship, traditions and devotion. It is T M Krishna (TMK), a self-proclaimed heretic among Carnatic musicians, and a Brahmin himself. Ironically, TMK who declared MS the greatest hoax, described her as a saintly Barbie doll, derided her as sexy, and spoke of men besotted more with her looks than her music, is the proud recipient of the Sangita Kalanidhi MS Subbulakshmi Award for 2024. TMK spoke so 'honourably' about MS not long back. Just eight years ago but long after MS left this world in 2004. The Award in MS' name to TMK now is automatic after the Madras Music Academy conferred on him its 'Sangita Kalanidhi' Award for 2024.

TMK has unquestionable liberal and wokeist credentials to demean the gentle and humble MS – citing her birth, music and looks. As a Brahmin by birth, TMK gained fame in Tamil Nadu, the land of Brahmin hate, by his virulent anti-Brahmin tirades, which automatically made him a progressive in today's discourse. Since he is a leftist and a liberal, no one can dare call him a misogynist for his dirty and sexy remarks about MS. As a Carnatic musician who has turned an iconoclast to demolish all sacred and devotional foundations of Carnatic music that owes its body and soul to great saints like Tyagaraja, he has emerged a hero of atheist Dravidian liberals. Most importantly, like Kejriwal who, now neck-deep in scams, was promoted by the Ramon Magsaysay Award as a crusader against corruption, TMK too was adorned with the Magsaysay Award for unleashing "what music has to offer not just for some but for all". But, in the "for all" inclusiveness that the Magsaysay Award mentions, TMK reserves the choicest of dirty words for MS. His appetite to demean MS seems insatiable. He refers to MS' 'past' as a single mother's daughter and adds "what does MS' metamorphosis [from that past] into a perfect Brahmin housewife say?... She sought respect and dignity and that she got only because she erased her past from her life and mind." Without successfully erasing her past — as a woman of low birth, according to TMK — MS would not have got the dignity and respect she commanded.

More than all his credentials, what makes TMK more qualified to mock MS as a 'Brahmanical' pretender is that he is a proud fan of EVR. Not many, not even TMK, may know today that EVR, who not only wanted all Brahmins killed and burnt, also desired that Mahatma Gandhi be annihilated along with the Congress! Jawaharlal Nehru wrote to Kamaraj (on 5.11.1957) calling for action against EVR who, he said, was a "pervert, criminal and lunatic". But speaking about MS, Nehru said: "Who am I, a mere Prime Minister before a Queen, Queen of Music". Diametrically opposite to Nehru, TMK character-assassinates the noble MS before whom Nehru felt humble, and eulogises EVR who, in the eyes of Nehru, was a criminal. TMK wrote and tweeted a song last year celebrating EVR as "the one who told us to think". In the same tweet he glorified EVR, TMK also held aloft a perverted writer Perumal Murugan who wrote that women, who pray all night on a Holy Day in a temple in West Tamil Nadu for begetting children, actually slept with unemployed youth stealthily to get impregnated by them! The liberal TMK eulogised him for dirtying both women and their faith. The liberal in him is also liberal in dirtying not just MS but womankind as a whole.

Proud to humiliate? Or shameless to accept?

On the Sangita Kalanidhi Award given by the Music Academy to MS as far back as 1968, TMK says "there is a lot to discuss about the negative impacts of her musicality" with a snide comment on her "artistic journey on the Kalanidhi landscape". What a shameful remark 50 years after MS was honoured by the Academy with Sangita Kalanidhi? And 18 years before TMK was born! He went on to characterise the award given to MS as beyond his reach.

To quote him, "Of course that is a space (Sangita Kalanidhi) we can never enter; how can we pollute the garbhagriha of her memory." TMK, who spoke so disparagingly about the award to MS then, has gleefully accepted it now and finally entered the garbhagriha of "Sangita Kalanidhi MS Subbulakshmi Award", that he never dreamt he would ever do. Is it his karma or his lust that made him accept the honour of the award that bears the name of MS he had wantonly dishonoured? Did he accept the MS Award proudly – to humiliate and damage her memory even more? Or was he so shameless to accept it because he was desperate to enter the Sanctum Santorum of the memorial of MS he had longed for? Either way it is petty and low.

Music Academy — negligent or conspirator?

Now come to the role of the owners of the Music Academy in conferring the Sangita Kalanidhi Award to TMK who had scorned MS, the Academy's own Sangita Kalanidhi Awardee. TMK got two mutually interlinked awards. One is the Sangita Kalanidhi Award of the Music Academy 2024 – which is just a hall of fame award. The other is in the name of MS herself – 'Sangita Kalanidhi MS Subbulakshmi Award 2024' which carries a cash prize of ₹1 lakh. The eligibility for the second award in MS' name is the first award of the Academy. Not long ago, a jury of Carnartic musicians used to select the Academy's awardees. But de-franchising the musicians, the non-musicians who own the Academy and know very little about the philosophy or even the contents of music, took over that task. In truth, the same set of non-musicians now control both awards. The owners of the Academy know that giving the Academy's Sangita Kalanidhi Award to TMK automatically makes him eligible to the other award, the MS Award. What follows?

The responsibility of both the awards is on the Music Academy. If the Academy chose TMK without even Google-based due diligence that would have brought out TMK's vilification of MS, it is guilty of willful negligence. But if it knew that he had maligned MS and still chose him, it is guilty as an active co-conspirator to vilify MS.

> If TMK introspects and turns humble like MS and apologises for his mad behaviour and blind hate for the greatest icon of the 20th century Carnatic music, he would at least wash away his own shameful and sinful conduct

MS' progeny challenges

A grandson of MS has filed a petition in the Madras High Court challenging the very idea of an award in her name itself. The petition says that, by her Will, MS had forbidden any award or statue or other symbols in her memory. The humble lady's final wish clearly reflects the self-effacing humility that marked her entire life of unparalleled popularity. That such a humble and noble icon is being trivialised long after her death by petty men who instituted the award in her name against her wish and gave it to TMK, the man who spewed venom on her is an inexcusably terrible story. Whether the case yields the result MS' grandson is seeking or not, his petition has put the sordid facts in the public domain and shamed both the giver and receiver of particularly the MS Award.

The awards to TMK is a wake-up call for the Carnatic music fraternity, which increasingly sells the soul of divine music for such awards. Carnatic music will become Madonna's Pop Music if it loses its soul of divinity and devotion. Musicians who revere music as divine must reject the awards given as favours by those who are illiterates in the devotional philosophy of Carnatic music. By its single act of honouring the man who dishonoured MS, with the honour of the MS Award, the Music Academy has ended up irredeemably dishonouring itself. The Academy's value today seems to be the worth of the price of its real estate at the prime place where music devotees live. Imagine it shifts to Velachery — just 12 km away — it will lose all its celebrity value.

There is still an honourable way out for TMK to atone for his shameless attempt to humiliate the iconic MS in the minds of the devotees of Carnatic music. If he introspects and turns humble like MS and apologises for his mad behaviour and blind hate for the greatest icon of the 20th century Carnatic music — whether he deserves the award or not — he would at least wash away his own shameful and sinful conduct. To end, the MS Award to TMK is like the Sankara Award for EVR. It will humiliate not only the givers but the receivers EVR and TMK too.

Sankara who would never have allowed an award in his name and MS who did not want an award in her name, would remain unaffected and stand tall any way.

NATIONAL MARITIME HERITAGE COMPLEX, LOTHAL, GUJARAT
Lothal was one among the prominent cities of the Harappan civilisation, dating back to 2,400 BC
Objective is to showcase India's rich and diverse maritime heritage having evidence dating back around 4,500 YEARS
The complex will be developed in its original form to allow people to experience magic of ancient times
It will preserve and showcase lighthouse museum, ship building experience, docks and Lothal tow

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved schemes relating to free mass distribution of fortified rice under the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana (PMGKAY), construction of road network in the border areas of Rajasthan and Punjab and building a National Maritime Heritage Complex (NMHC) in Gujarat.

Briefing the media after the Cabinet meeting chaired by PM Narendra Modi, I&B Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said that with an aim to improve nutrition level among masses, particularly women, the fortified rice having iron, folic acid and Vitamin B12 will be distributed under PMGKAY and other welfare schemes from July 2024 to December 2028 with a cost of ₹17,082 crore. "The initiative will remain a central sector scheme, fully funded by the government of India under PMGKAY's food subsidy programme," he said.

The minister said the extension of the scheme is aligned with the government's 'Anaemia Mukt Bharat' plan. He added that the supply of fortified rice will be extended through the Targeted Public Distribution System, Integrated Child Development Service, and the PM POSHAN scheme (formerly mid-day meal) in all states/UTs.

In April 2022, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) had approved the implementation of the rice fortification scheme across India in phases. All three phases have been completed, with fortified rice available through all its schemes as of March 2024, the government said in a statement. According to the National Family Health Survey (NFHS-5) conducted between 2019 and 2021, anaemia remains prevalent across India, affecting children, women and men.

The cabinet also approved the construction of a road network of 2,280 kms in border areas of Rajasthan and Punjab with a cost of ₹4,406 crore, Vaishnaw said.

"The government expects the development of infrastructure in border areas will enhance their livelihood. The project will also ease travel and improve connectivity with the rest of the highway network," he said.

In another decision the government approved the development of National Maritime Heritage Complex at Lothal in Gujarat and it will be completed in two phases, the minister said. "The Cabinet accorded in-principle approval for Phase 1B and Phase 2, as per master plan by raising funds through voluntary resources/contributions and their execution after raising of the funds. Construction of the Lighthouse Museum under Phase 1B will be funded by the Directorate General of Lighthouses and Lightships (DGLL)," the minister said.

Trilateral highway project on agenda of ASEAN Summit

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE ambitious India-Myanmar-Thailand highway project will come up for discussion at the ASEAN-India Summit for which PM Narendra Modi is scheduled to visit Vientiane (Laos) on October 10 and 11.

"Myanmar will attend the upcoming Summit and there will be talk of all issues in the region. There will be talks on the trilateral highway project and how it can be taken forward,'' Jaydeep Mazumdar, Secretary (East) in the MEA, said on Wednesday.

However, India's key infrastructural project in Myanmar —Kaladan Multi Modal Transit Transport (KMMTT) Project—will not be discussed.

"Since KMMTT is a bilateral project, it will not come up for discussion at the ASEAN Summit,'' Mazumdar told this newspaper. He said that Modi is likely to have a few bilateral meetings on the sidelines of the summit.

Meanwhile, discussions are also likely to be held on the peaceful return of democracy in Myanmar, and trafficking of Indian youth who end up working in cyber fraud centres in Myanmar and Cambodia.

"As regards fake jobs, this is an issue which we have been taking up with countries concerned; the external affairs minister has also been taking it up and we have had positive responses from the countries involved. Last week, we had a large batch of about 65 people who were rescued from Cambodia. So, this is an ongoing discussion that we are having with the countries and we are seeing positive results from," he said.

Last week, the Indian Embassy in Cambodia, in collaboration with Cambodia's Ministry of Interior, rescued and repatriated Indian nationals trapped in fraudulent job scams. In September, following specific leads by the Embassy, the Cambodian Police has rescued 67 Indian nationals from Poipet.

On India's Act East Policy, which is completing 10 years, Mazumdar said, "There's been a qualitative and transformative development in our relations, both with the ASEAN region and with the larger region which includes India policy with Oceania, Australia, New Zealand, the Pacific island countries and Japan."

Modi is expected to meet the newly appointed Japanese PM Shigeru Ishiba, who will be attending the Summit, his first overseas visit since assuming office. Modi will hold bilateral meetings with Laos PM Sonexay Siphandone.

SC: Plea of juvenility can be raised after judgment

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday held that a plea of juvenility can be filed even after the judgment, order of conviction, and sentence granted against a person have attained finality. A two-judge bench of Justices BV Nagarathna and N Kostiswar Singh acquitted the accused in a murder case who had filed a plea for juvenility after the order of conviction and sentence was passed against him.

The accused No. 1 had preferred and filed a miscellaneous application before the SC claiming the plea of juvenility even after the court had upheld his conviction. The SC allowed his plea and granted him relief.

On the top court's direction, the Sessions Court carried out a detailed examination under Section 94 of the Juvenile Justice (Care & Protection) Act, 2015, to determine the accused's age at the time of the commission of an offence. The examination recorded that the accused was below 18 years of age as on the date of the incident.

"Bearing in mind the aforesaid judgments and the report submitted by the learned Sessions Judge, pursuant to the directions of this Court, we find that the date of birth of the applicant has been proved to be 04.10.1984. Consequently, the claim of juvenility made by the applicant, who was arrayed as accused no.3 is upheld and the conviction as recorded against him by this court is set-aside and he stands acquitted," the top court said.

CCS nod to nuclear-propelled hunter submarines to counter China in IOR

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a major approval that could add heft to the Indian Navy's underwater combat capability, the Cabinet Committee on Security on Wednesday green-flagged construction of nuclear-powered attack submarines (SSN). The project to procure 31 armed MQ 9B Unmanned Aerial Vehicles also got a nod.

The plans are to indigenously manufacture two 6,000-tonne boats initially, each costing around ₹15,000 crore, at the shipbuilding center in Vizag.

This newspaper first reported in August that the government is preparing to give the Navy a green signal to enhance its attack capability through the manufacture of nuclear-powered submarines this year. This is expected to serve as a deterrent for the Chinese Navy's increasing foray into the Indian Ocean Region.

REPRESENTATIVE IMAGE

This ambitious project is going to be indigenous. "The submarine will be more than 90% indigenous," sources said.

One of the sources had confirmed that policymakers at every level had shown their inclination towards the project.

The project has Chinese considerations, as China has been rapidly deploying various assets, including attack submarines, in the Indian Ocean region on anti-piracy duty since 2008. Prolonged deployments help gain familiarity and confidence. Moreover, Chinese survey vessels have been continuously operating in the region. "The Chinese are unbelievably fast. We can take them lightly at our own peril," sources said.

In May, China completed sea trials of its Fujian aircraft carrier, which weighs a whopping 80,000 metric tonnes. The PLA already has two active carriers, the 66,000-tonne Shandong and the 60,000-tonne Liaoning.

"If any Chinese aircraft carrier comes close by, our nuclear submarine will serve as a deterrent because it can stay under water for close to a month," they added.

DALIT DEATH

A 65-year-old Dalit man was killed in a clash over land dispute in a village here, police said on Wednesday. The victim was identified as Raja Ram Kori, a resident of Madwa village, police said.

● EC rejects Grand Old Party's claim on battery of the machines ● Modi and Shah meet Saini as party's tally goes up to 51

Cong team seeks inquiry into 'tampering' of EVMs

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A day after the drubbing in the Haryana assembly polls, a Congress delegation met the Election Commission on Wednesday and submitted complaints citing "serious discrepancies" with the counting process and the functioning of the EVMs.

The party urged the EC to take urgent measures and order an inquiry into the "discrepancies". The delegation included senior party leaders K C Venugopal, Ashok Gehlot, Bhupinder Hooda, Ajay Maken, Abhishek Manu Singhvi and Jairam Ramesh.

The memorandum said some candidates had noticed that on EVMs that had 99% battery charge, the BJP won, while on those with 60-70%, the Congress won. "During counting of votes for Haryana assembly elections, a glaring discrepancy was discovered by Congress candidates and their polling agents. This discrepancy related to the battery charge/health/capacity of the EVM machines being used during the counting of votes," it said

"Some EVMs used for counting were operating at 99% battery capacity, while other EVMs were operating at 60-70% battery capacity. In fact, in some cases, this discrepancy was discovered in EVMs used in the same polling station. Immediately upon discovery, the INC candidates raised this issue before the concerned returning Officers, however in majority of the places, there was no response received in this regard," the memorandum said.

"We request that the Commission take urgent measures and order for an enquiry on this issue." In his first response on the party's dismal performance, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said the party was analysing the "unexpected" result in the state. Ahead of Congress delegation's meeting with the EC, the poll body wrote to party chief Mallikarjun Kharge on the allegations raised by them.

"I am directed to refer to the widely reported statement made by Jairam Ramesh, MP and Pawan Khera on 8th October, which seemingly made an assertion, in the context of the Legislative Assembly, that election results are unacceptable," wrote a panel official.

Day after Haryana results, 3 independents back BJP

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR AND HARPREET BAJWA @ New Delhi, Chandigarh

WITH the BJP set to form government for the third time in Haryana after winning the polls, all the three Independent MLAs — Savitri Jindal, Devender Kadyan and Rajesh Joon — on Wednesday extend support to the saffron party, taking its tally from 48 to 51 in the assembly.

Savitri Jindal, the Independent candidate from Hisar and richest woman of the country, said that for the development of Hisar she has decided to support the BJP government after it would be sworn in. She met Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and BJP MP Biplab Kumar Deb in Delhi.

Haryana BJP president Mohan Lal Badoli announced that independent MLAs Devender Kadyan from Ganaur and Rajesh Joon from Bahadurgarh have extended support to the BJP.

Joon said, "I am impressed by the policies of the BJP. For the development of my constituency, I have decided to support the party."

Kadyan, a BJP rebel who contested as an independent, defeated Kuldip Sharma of Congress by 35,209 votes from Ganaur.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Haryana chief minister Nayab Saini and expressed hopes that Saini will take the state further on the development path. "I am confident that Haryana's role is going to become more important in the realisation of a developed India," Modi said after meeting Saini. The CM also met Home Minister Amit Shah after meeting the President and Vice President. Sources indicated that Saini will continue as chief minister and the swearing-in will soon be decided.

Later speaking to the reporters, Saini said, "The historic victory of Haryana is a victory of trust in the policies of the Prime Minister, a victory of good governance, a victory of equality and a victory of welfare of the poor." After meeting Shah, who played a key role in ensuring the party's victory, Saini said "I discussed with him the future strategy for Haryana and many important issues related to the state.

MP CM proves lucky for BJP on 4 Haryana seats

A record third-time victory of the ruling BJP in Haryana Assembly elections has come as a personal achievement for Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav. Four assembly segments where Yadav campaigned have gone in favour of the BJP. The four assembly segments are Dadri, Bhiwani and Bawani Khera-SC seats (where he addressed rallies on September 26) and Tosham (where he held a roadshow on October 3). The party also won Jammu and Kashmir's Samba seat, where the CM had addressed two rallies on September 22. Haryana reportedly has around 5-5.5% Yadav voters.

'Rajyamata-Gaumata' status for cows sought

Just a week after the Mahayuti government in Maharashtra granted 'Rajyamata-Gaumata' status to the indigenous breeds of cows, a prominent Hindu seer has demanded similar status for the cows in adjoining state as well. Shankaracharya of Jyotish Peeth in Uttarakhand, Swami Avimukteshwaranand Saraswati, who is currently touring the central Indian state said that the current MP CM hails from the Yadav caste, owing to which a decision similar to what Maharashtra government made recently is needed from his urgently.

Ban burning of Ravana effigy: Mahakal priest

A Brahmin caste leader from CM Dr Mohan Yadav's home city Ujjain has demanded blanket ban on burning of giant effigies of demon king Ravana, starting with the coming Dussehra festival in MP. Mahesh Pujari, who is among the priests at the world famous Mahakal Temple and also heads a Brahmin body Yuva Brahmin Samaj, Ujjain, has written to the CM, mentioning that Ravana was a Shiva devotee and a learned Brahmin, so continuing with the age old tradition of burning Ravana's effigy on Dussehra dishonours Brahmins and Lord Shiva devotees. "Owing to it, I've written to the CM, demanding that the annual practice be ended starting from MP."

Omar says new cabinet's 1st resolution will be on restoration of statehood

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE National Conference (NC) is set to hold a meeting of newly elected legislators in Srinagar on Thursday. Omar Abdullah, who is tipped to take over as the first chief minister of J&K UT, stated that the new cabinet's first order of business would be to pass a resolution seeking restoration of statehood.

Meanwhile, J&K Congress chief Tariq Hamid Karra has rushed to Delhi to consult party leaders on government formation. "The NC legislative party meeting will be held tomorrow, followed by an alliance meeting later to determine the leader of the alliance," Omar told reporters in Srinagar on Wednesday. NC emerged as the single largest party with 42 seats in the 90-member J&K Assembly. Omar, the alliance leader, said that the alliance would take letters of support, meet with the Lieutenant Governor to stake claim on government formation, and request the L-G to fix the swearing-in date.

On being named as CM by his father and NC president Farooq Abdullah, Omar said, "I am very grateful for the confidence he has reposed in me. But the decision has to be taken by the legislators. It is a decision that the alliance has to make. I have always wanted to do things by the book and by the rules."

He suggested that the new cabinet should be to pass a resolution, asking for the restoration of statehood, and the CM should travel to Delhi with the resolution. "The CM should call on the country's leadership and ask them to fulfil their promise. Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah have promised restoration of statehood. Nowhere did they say that statehood will be restored only when BJP comes to power".

On Article 370, Omar said, "We don't want to fool people because expecting those who snatched Article 370 to restore it will be foolishness."

BJP wins all 7 SC seats, but loses 9 ST seats in J&K

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

THE BJP, which emerged as the second largest party in J&K Assembly polls by winning 29 seats, won all the seven seats reserved for Scheduled Castes (SCs) in Jammu region but could not win a single seat reserved for tribal communities (STs) despite granting of reservation to the Paharis and three other communities.

After the delimitation of constituencies in J&K, 16 Assembly seats in the region were reserved for SCs and STs. Of the 16 seats, 9 seats were reserved for STs and seven for SCs.

With an eye on the ST votebank, the BJP government this year granted reservation to Paharis and three other communities, much to the annoyance of the Gujjar and Bakerwal communities. Paharis have a large population in Rajouri and Poonch districts.

According to Gujjars and Bakerwals, the Paharis are an affluent community and should not have been granted the ST status.

Granting ST status to Paharis and three other communities did not bring the desired results for BJP and it could not win a single out of 9 seats reserved for ST in J&K.

Modi rolls out ₹7K cr Maha sops, calls for MVA defeat

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A day after the BJP regained power in Haryana, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday virtually inaugurated infrastructure and development projects worth over ₹7,600 crore in Maharashtra.

He also launched a scathing attack on the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA), saying that it aims to weaken the state, and urged the people to reject the coalition in the upcoming Assembly polls, similar to what happened in Haryana.

PM Modi laid the foundation stone for the upgradation of Dr BR Ambedkar international airport in Nagpur, and the newly integrated terminal building at Shirdi Airport. He also launched the operation of ten medical colleges in the state.

"Never in the history of Maharashtra has the development taken such a fast pace. Marathi has been recognised as a classical language. When a language gets its due respect, it's not just the words but the entire generation gets a voice. The dream of crores of Marathi brethren was fulfilled with this," he said.

The PM said the results of the assembly elections in Haryana, and Jammu and Kashmir revealed the people's mood.

> The entire ecosystem of Congress was misleading the public in Haryana. They tried to spread lies among Dalits who realized that the grand old party would snatch away reservations from them and distribute it among their vote bank — Narendra Modi, PM

Modi cautioned against "those playing divisive politics and misleading the voters" for personal gains. He also pointed out "attempts to induce fear among Muslims" in the country and convert them into vote banks while expressing disdain towards those indulging in casteism in Hinduism for their benefit. He warned against those trying to break Hindu society in India for political gains. "I am confident that the people of Maharashtra would reject efforts to break the society," he added, and called the Congress "irresponsible" and a "factory to spread hatred."

"The entire ecosystem of Congress was misleading the public in Haryana. They tried to spread lies among Dalits who realized that the grand old party would snatch away reservations from them and distribute it among their vote bank," Modi asserted. PM Modi alleged that the Congress attempted to stoke discontent among the youth and farmers, but the BJP's track record on development reassured voters. "Haryana has shown that they will not fall for the hateful conspiracies of Congress," he added.

15 more senior docs quit in support of juniors

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

AT least 15 senior doctors from various state-run hospitals tendered their resignation on Wednesday in solidarity with their juniors' movement, seeking justice for the rape-murder victim of RG Kar Medical College and Hospital.

Around 50 senior doctors, including department heads, had quit on Tuesday. Senior doctors on Wednesday said that their colleagues in other prominent hospitals might follow suit.

Meanwhile, junior doctors on Wednesday held protest rallies in different parts of Kolkata and also visited Durga Puja pandals demanding justice for RG Kar rape-murder victim.

They said they would continue their protest during the pujas and raise their voice against injustice done by the police in the RG Kar case. They had a heated altercation with Kolkata Police near Esplanade.

Police "picked up" around nine junior doctors from a popular Durga Puja marquee. The junior doctors also gheraoed the CBI headquarters in Salt Lake, stating that they were not happy with the chargesheet submitted by the probe agency. They said that the rape-murder of the 31-year-old trainee doctor at RG Kar on August 9 can't be done only one person. The CBI chargesheet named civic volunteer Sanjoy Roy as the main accused in the case.

The junior doctors emphasised that securing justice for their deceased colleague is their main aim. Their other demands include immediate removal of health secretary NS Nigam, fixing accountability for administrative failures and steps to combat corruption in the health department. They have also demanded establishing a centralised referral system for hospitals, implementing a bed vacancy monitoring system, ensuring proper facilities at workplaces, and increasing police protection in hospitals.

The junior doctors continued their 'fast-unto-death' for the fifth consecutive day. Doctors Snigdha Hazra, Tanaya Panja, and Anustup Mukhopadhyay from Kolkata Medical College and Hospital, Arnab Mukhopadhyay from SSKM, Pulastha Acharya from NRS Medical College and Hospital, and Sayantani Ghosh Hazra from KPC Medical College have been staging a 'fast-unto-death' since Saturday evening. On Sunday, they were joined by Aniket Mahato from RG Kar Medical College. Two other junior doctors of Coochbehar Medical College are also continuing their hunger strike for the third day consecutive day in support of their colleagues here.

Dr Punyabrata Gun, one of the joint convenors of the West Bengal Joint Platform of Doctors, said that they would continue supporting the junior medics.

State govt calls agitating junior docs for meeting

The West Bengal government has invited agitating junior doctors for a meeting on Wednesday evening to resolve the RG Kar impasse, an official said. The meeting has been scheduled for 7.45 pm at the the state health department headquarters in Salt Lake. "You may bring a delegation of 8-10 members," Chief Secretary Manoj Pant said in an email to medics. Debasish Halder, a member of the Junior Doctors' Forum, said they would attend the meeting.

Buzz on appointment of Kejriwal's aide Bibhav as Mann's chief adviser

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WITH Delhi assembly elections expected within four months, the Aam Aadmi Party wants to clean up its act in Punjab and present it as a model of good governance. That perhaps is why it is purging Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann's trusted core in a hurry.

The buzz in the corridors of power is that AAP heavyweight Bibhav Kumar, who was party convenor and former Delhi chief minister Arvind Kejriwal's trusted lieutenant, could be planted in the Punjab Chief Minister's Office as Mann's chief advisor.

There were also claims that the terms of appointment of a chief advisor were cleared by the Punjab cabinet, which met on Tuesday.

If Bibhav indeed becomes the chief advisor, he could be calling the shots, given his proximity to Kejriwal. For the record, the official spokesperson of the Punjab government dismissed all talk of Bibhav's appointment in the Punjab CMO as false and social media gossip.

Bibhav is out on bail in the Swati Maliwal assault case.

The development came as two more close aides of Mann — Director, Media Relations (Overseas), Baltej Pannu and Director, Social Media, Manpreet Kaur were shown the door. A former journalist, Pannu was hired by the Punjab State Media Society and he had joined the CMO in July 2022. As for Kaur, she had joined just one-and-a-half months ago.

Two other aides of Mann — Director, Communications, Navneet Wadhwa and Onkar Singh, Officer on Special Duty to the CM — had put in their papers earlier. In all, the axe has fallen on four of Mann's trusted soldiers.

In a related development, the state government on Wednesday appointed K A P Sinha as the new Chief Secretary. A 1992 batch IAS officer, he replaced Anurag Verma. Last week, Verma was called to Delhi for a meeting with the AAP top brass. Sinha is the fourth chief secretary of the state ever since the AAP wrested power in Punjab two-and-a-half years ago.

HEZBOLLAH FIRES ROCKETS FROM SEVERAL DIRECTION INTO ISRAEL

Biden speaks to Netanyahu as the Jewish nation weighs its response to Iran's missile attack

BEIRUT

HEZBOLLAH said it was fighting Israeli troops in a border area in southern Lebanon on Wednesday, as Israel intensifies its ground offensive against the Iran-backed armed group.

The Lebanese militant group fired rockets and artillery shells "as Israeli troops tried to advance in the Mays al-Jabal area from several directions", it said.

Hezbollah said earlier on Wednesday its fighters had repelled two Israeli army attempts to infiltrate Lebanese territory near other frontier villages. Having weakened Hamas, whose unprecedented October 2023 attack on Israel triggered war in Gaza, the Israeli military is now focused on Hezbollah, the Lebanese ally of the Palestinian Islamist group.

After midnight, Hezbollah said its fighters detonated an explosive device targeting Israeli forces and engaged in combat with them as they "attempted to infiltrate the border town of Blida" in the southeast. In another statement, it said its fighters targeted Israeli soldiers with artillery "and rocket-propelled weapons" as they attempted to advance towards the border area of Labbouneh at 4:55 am. The militant group said it thwarted a number of such infiltration attempts since the Israeli military launched limited ground incursions into Lebanon on September 30.

US President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris spoke with Israeli leader Benjamin Netanyahu, the White House said, as Israel weighs its response to last week's missile attack by Iran. "This morning, President Biden spoke with Prime Minister Netanyahu of Israel. Vice President Harris also joined the call," the White House said in a statement.

Hamas said it had begun meetings with rival Palestinian faction Fatah in Cairo to discuss the year-long war in the Gaza Strip and efforts towards national unity.

"A meeting has just commenced in the Egyptian capital, Cairo, between the delegations of the Hamas movement... and the Fatah movement," a Hamas statement read. It added that they were discussing "aggression on the Gaza Strip, the political and field developments, and to unify national efforts and ranks". AFP

Das says the central bank will closely monitor price situation given crude prices moved over 18% in past one week following flare up in war between Israel and Iran

WAR ON INFLATION IS ALMOST WON: RBI GOVERNOR DAS

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank on Wednesday retained the retail inflation projection at 4.5% for fiscal 2025, with Governor Shaktikanta Das stressing that the central bank will have to closely monitor the price situation given the rising risks to imported inflation as crude prices have vaulted over 18% in the past one week following the flare up war between Israel and Iran.

Das offered some banter to the press when he quipped, in response to a media query, as to how the inflation description has moved from 'a wild elephant' till recently to a 'nearly tamed horse', saying "in a war, both elephants and horses are used and that if needed the RBI will deploy again the arsenals from Arjuna to sharpen its attack and focus."

When inflation was sticky for long and sticking around in double-digit, Das used to repeatedly say that the RBI MPC will not rest till the elephant is sent back to forest and ensured that the wily animal remains there for a durable time so that the economy grows at a higher pace sustainably longer.

However, the RBI monetary policy committee (MPC) retained the CPI projection for FY25 at 4.5%, with Q2 at 4.1%; Q3 at 4.8%; and Q4 at 4.2%. CPI inflation for Q1FY26 is projected at 4.3%. Unveiling the bimonthly monetary policy, the governor said the flexible inflation targeting (FIT) framework, which has completed eight years since its introduction in September 2016, is a major structural reform of the 21st century India.

Under FIT, the RBI has ensured that the consumer price index (CPI) based retail inflation remains at 4% with a margin of 2% on either side. "The CPI print for September is expected to see a big jump due to unfavourable base effects and pick-up in food price momentum, caused by the lingering effects of a shortfall in the production of onion, potato and gram in FY24, among other factors," Das said.

He added that the headline inflation trajectory, however, is projected to sequentially moderate in Q4FY25 due to good kharif harvest, ample buffer stocks of cereals and a likely good crop in the ensuing rabi season. Unexpected weather events and worsening of geopolitical conflicts constitute major upside risks to inflation. International crude oil prices have become volatile in October, Das added.

Shaktikanta Das, RBI governor

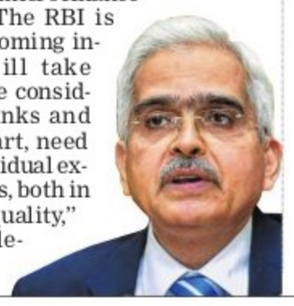
Das asks NBFCs to follow 'compliance first' culture

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank; which has been repeatedly flagging bad practices at NBFCs, MFIs and gold loan companies in the past; on Wednesday asked them to follow a 'compliance first culture' and has advised them to "self correct" and warned that else the heavy hand of the regulator will be raised.

At the press conference after policy meet, Governor Shaktikanta Das said a few NBFCs are aggressively chasing growth without building sustainable business practices and risk management frameworks, commensurate with their scale and complexities of their portfolios. Stocks of listed NBFC arere-mained undisturbed by this warning. The governor noted that with some NBFCs, it seems apparent that business targets are driving retail credit growth, rather than the actual demand. He made a strong case for dissuading such "push effects".

"There has been some recent commentary on the likelihood of stress build-up in some unsecured loan segments like loans for consumption purposes, microfinance and credit cards. The RBI is monitoring the incoming information and will take measures as may be considered necessary. Banks and NBFCs, on their part, need to assess their individual exposure in these areas, both in terms of size and quality," Das said in his televised address.



Analysts see easing cycle closer as policy stance changed to neutral

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

The central bank can opt for a shallow rate cut of 25 bps in Dec policy meet, followed by another 25 bps in Feb, provided food inflation moderates

Rajani Sinha, chief economist at Care Ratings

Expects rate cut in December

DK Joshi of Crisil Ratings is confident of rate cut in Dec saying with MPC changing stance to 'neutral', it has signaled a less restrictive policy. Progress on disinflation and a good monsoon have encouraged MPC to change tack.

WITH the RBI MPC changing policy stance to neutral from its withdrawal of accommodation that began in June 2019, analysts are unison in forecasting the beginning of rate easing cycle sooner than later, with some seeing the first rate in 20 months as early as in the December review.

Abheek Barua, chief economist at HDFC Bank, said "With the RBI acknowledging a durable disinflationary trend underway though highlighting lingering domestic and global risks, signalling future rate action will be data dependent. Given this, if conditions evolve favourably over the coming months, a December rate cut is not off the table."

Rajani Sinha, chief economist at Care Ratings, said given neutral stance now, "the RBI can opt for a shallow rate cut of 25 bps in December policy meet, followed by another 25 bps in the February meet, provided food inflation moderates."

DK Joshi of Crisil Ratings was confident of rate cut in December saying with the MPC changing stance to 'neutral', it has signaled a less restrictive monetary policy. "What neutral stance implies is that the MPC could change repo rate in either direction in future, depending on economic data. Progress on disinflation and a good monsoon have encouraged MPC to change tack. That said, a 'neutral' stance affords the MPC the flexibility to respond to unexpected disruptions in the disinflation process from exogenous sources."

"We anticipate a 25 bps cut in repo rate in December review given food inflation is likely to ease after a healthy monsoon."

"Listening to the governor's press conference and his views on growth, it seems to us that, while the RBI has taken the first step towards monetary easing by changing stance, there is still some reluctance to signal a rate cut in the next policy in December. We had a view the RBI will start easing cycle from December and will cut a cumulative 75 bps by mid-of 2025," Duetsche Bank economists said. India Ratings' Paras Jasrai said rate action is likely to be data driven. With the kind of risks monetary policy has highlighted, future rate cut is likely to be a shallow one.

Star health data hack: More than 3 crore customers' information up for sale online

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

A hacker claims to have data of over 31 million customers of Star Health Insurance and that it is available for sale at $150,000. On Wednesday, customers of the insurance company were shocked as a hacker identified as xenZen claims to have all details of customers including date of birth, phone number, PAN Card, among other details.

The insurance company in a statement to TNIE acknowledged that they were the victim of a targeting malicious cyberattack, resulting in unauthorised and illegal access to certain data.

"We make it absolutely clear that our operations remain unaffected, and all services continue without disruption. A thorough and rigorous forensic investigation, led by independent cybersecurity experts is underway, and we are working closely with government and regulatory authorities at every stage of this investigation, including by duly reporting the incident to the insurance and cybersecurity regulatory authorities apart from filing a criminal complaint," the statement added. The company also informed that it timely approached the Madras High Court which has directed all including certain third parties to disable access to the relevant information. "We are diligently pursuing the implementation of this order," it said.

We are working with govt and regulatory authorities at every stage of this probe, including by duly reporting the incident to insurance and cybersecurity regulatory authorities apart from filing complaint

Hyundai sets price band at ₹1,865-1,960 for ₹27,870 cr IPO

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

HYUNDAI Motor India on Wednesday announced the price band for its initial share sale worth ₹27,870 crore, making it the biggest-ever share sale in Dalal Street's history at ₹1,865-1,960 a share.

This will value the second-largest domestic carmaker at ₹1.59 lakh crore or a tad less than $19 billion, which is as much as 42% of its parent Hyundai Motor Corp's $44 billion current valuation.

The issue, which is only an offer for sale, through which the parent will sell 17.5% or 14.2 crore of its equity in the issuer and has no fresh issue, therefore, the entire proceeds will go to the selling shareholder and not to the company. The issue opens on October 15. Employees have a ₹186 discount apiece from the declared price band. While at the upper end of price band, the company will raise ₹27,870 crore, making it the largest-ever IPO, breaking record set by LIC in May 2022, raising ₹23,000 crore. At the upper-end the company is commanding a premium of 159x.

When asked about high premium valuing it 42% of its parent's value, which is the world's third-largest carmaker, ibankers said. Tarun Garg, COO of Hyundai, said many MNCs that have subsidiaries operating here have at different valuations to that of the parent. One of bankers to the issue, Citigroup's Rahul Saraf said the consumption story offered here is very different and so the valuations commands a higher multiple.

"We have been India's largest exporter of passenger vehicles from fiscal 2005 to the first 11 months of fiscal 2024, having exported the highest cumulative number of passenger vehicles. Since 1998 and up to March 2024, we have cumulatively sold nearly 12 million PV in the country and through exports. In 2023, we were among the top three contributors to our parent's global sales volumes, and our contribution to its sales volume has risen from 15.48% in 2018 to 18.19% in 2023," Unsoo Kim, MD, Hyundai India said.

Kim said the company has plans to invest ₹32,000 crore here over next decade and will invest to make its Pune plant automated, aiming for a healthy mix of domestic and exports sales.

GMP sees sharp decline ahead of issue

ENS ECONOMIC BUREA @ New Delhi

THE grey market premium (GMP) of Hyundai Motor India Ltd (HMIL) has plunged sharply in recent days amid concerns related to 'rich valuation' that may leave little room for investors to make listing gains when the shares are listed on the exchanges later this month.

Last check on Tuesday, GMP for Hyundai came down to ₹145 per share, suggesting a gain of about 7.5% to the investors at the upper end of the IPO price band. The same hit a high of ₹570 per share in late September and was hovering around ₹360-370 level at the start of this month. GMP is the premium amount paid at which initial public offering (IPO) shares are traded before it is listed on the stock exchanges. GMP is a key indicator of how an IPO may perform on listing. However, GMP is not always an accurate indicator and changes rapidly.

HMIL, the local arm of South Korean automaker Hyundai, has fixed a price band of ₹1,865-1,960 per share for its ₹27,870 crore IPO, the largest in India ever. The offering opens for subscription on October 15.

THE average revenue per user (ARPU) of telecom service providers in India increased by 2.55% to ₹157.45 in the June quarter of 2024, according to the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI).

The TRAI's Indian Telecom Services Performance Indicators report shows ARPU of all telecom operators rose from ₹153.54 in March 2024 to ₹157.45 in the quarter. ARPU measures how much money telecom service providers such as Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL) earn from each customer per month. The ARPU saw a significant annual growth, up 8.11% in June quarter as against the same period last year. Both prepaid and postpaid ARPU saw increases, with prepaid ARPU rising from ₹150.74 in March 2024 to ₹154.80 in June 2024. Postpaid ARPU rose from ₹187.85 to ₹189.17 in the quarter.

Airtel reports highest APRU, VIL lowest

In terms of ARPU, Airtel reported the highest at ₹211, followed by Jio at ₹181.70, while VIL had the lowest ARPU of ₹146 in the quarter. Regarding revenue, the gross revenue (GR) of the telecom service sector for June was ₹86,031 crore, a fall of 2.16% as against the previous quarter

In terms of ARPU, Airtel reported the highest at ₹211, followed by Jio at ₹181.70, while VIL had the lowest ARPU of ₹146 in the quarter. Regarding revenue, the gross revenue (GR) of the telecom service sector for June was ₹86,031 crore, a fall of 2.16% as against the previous quarter. The Applicable Gross Revenue (ApGR) fell by 1.02% to ₹83,087 crore, while the adjusted gross revenue (AGR) increased by 0.13% to Rs. 70,555 crore.

The report also noted that the overall Minutes of Usage (MOU) per subscriber per month declined by 2.16%, from 995 in March 2024 to 974 in June 2024. Prepaid MOU per subscriber stood at 1,010, while postpaid MOU per subscriber was 539 in the June quarter.

Ratan Tata passes away at hospital in Mumbai

HAVING acquired the business acumen and leadership qualities required to lead the large conglomerate, he became chairman of the group in 1991, and drove the expansion of the group as the nation embraced an era of liberalization.

Holding the reins of a group that traced its pedigree to the company's founder and his great-grandfather, Sir Jamsetji Tata, Ratan Tata made his mark by helming the conglomerate's transition to a truly multi-national company. He got Tata Tea to acquire the British company Tetley, Tata Motors to take over the ailing Jaguar Land Rover and Tata Steel to acquire Corus in 2004. Everything did not always go his way. His dream project of manufacturing the world's cheapest car, the 'Tata Nano' in 2009, was an engineering marvel, but failed in the market. He inducted the Shapoorji Pallonji Group's Cyrus Mistry as Tata Sons Chairman after he stepped down in 2012; but the corporate battle and Mistry's messy exit thereafter was a dark period of the group. Things settled and leadership was back in place with the accession of N Chandrasekaran. Ratan Tata, a bachelor, was an untiring philanthropist dedicating many hours every week to providing for healthcare and old age support to the less fortunate. He was also a dedicated animal lover, setting up dog shelters in Mumbai.

Dear Sir,
Sub: Notice issued under Section 13(2) of the Securitisation& Reconstruction of Financial Assets & Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002.
The undersigned being the Authorized Officer of Canara Bank, Specialised Asset Recovery Management Branch, Hubballi (hereinafter referred to as "the secured creditor"), appointed under the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, (hereinafter referred as the "Act") do hereby issue this notice to you as under:
That M/s M. G. Traders and Exporters (hereinafter referred to as "the Borrower") represented by its proprietor Sri M Gopal has availed credit facility / facilities stated in the Schedule A (from Canara Bank Hospet Branch now the account is transferred to Specialised Asset Recovery Management Branch, Hubballi) hereunder and has entered into the security agreement/s in favour of the secured creditor. While availing the said financial assistance, you have expressly undertaken to repay the loan amount/s in accordance with the terms and conditions of the above mentioned agreements.
That Sri M Venkatesh and Smt. Renuka (Since deceased) presently represented by legal heir Sri Ravinatha G.K. resident of Door No. 23/3 Old Door No. 1784, Giriyabovipalya ,Nazarbad Mohalla Mysore- 570011 (hereinafter referred to as "the Guarantor") have guaranteed the payment on demand of all moneys and discharge all obligations and liabilities owing or incurred to the secured creditor by the Borrower for credit facilities up to the limit of Rs.75.00 Lakhs (Rupees Seventy Five Lakhs) with interest.
You(The person mentioned in schedule B) have also entered into agreements against the secured assets which are detailed in Schedule B hereunder.
However, from November'2014 (month/year), the operation and conduct of the said financial assistance / credit facilities have become irregular. The books of account maintained by the secured assets shows that the liability of the Borrower towards the secured creditor as on date amounts to Rs. 4,36,97,432/-(Rupees Four Crores Thirty Six Lakhs Ninety Seven Thousand Four hundred and Thirty Two Only) the details of which together with future interest rate are stated in Schedule C, hereunder. It is further stated that the Borrower/Guarantor having failed to keep up with the terms of the above said agreement in clearing the dues of the secured creditor within the time given, and have been evasive in settling the dues. The operation and conduct of the above said financial assistance / credit facility/ies having come to a standstill and as a consequence of the default committed in repayment of principal debt/ installment and interest thereon, the secured creditor was constrained to classify the debt as Non Performing Asset (NPA) as on 14/02/2015 in accordance with the directives/guidelines relating to asset classification issued by the Reserve Bank of India.
The secured creditor through this notice brings to your attention that the Borrower has failed and neglected to repay the said dues/ outstanding liabilities and hence hereby demand you under Section 13(2) of the Act, by issuing this notice to discharge in full the liabilities of the Borrower as stated in Schedule C hereunder to the secured creditor within 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice. Further, it is brought to your notice that you are also liable to pay future interest at the rate of 13.50% p. a compounded monthly for OCC facility together with all costs, charges, expenses and incidental expenses with respect to the proceedings undertaken by the secured creditor in recovering its dues.
Please take note of the fact that if you fail to repay to the secured creditor the aforesaid sum of Rs. 4,36,97,432/-(Rupees Four Crores Thirty Six Lakhs Ninety Seven Thousand Four hundred and Thirty Two Only) the details of which together with future interest and incidental expenses and costs from 01/10/2024 as stated above in terms of this notice under Section 13(2) of the Act, the secured creditor will exercise all or any of the rights detailed under sub-section (4)(a) and (b) of Section 13, the extract of which is given here below to convey the seriousness of this issue:
13(4)- In case the Borrower/Guarantor fails to discharge liability in full within the period specified in sub-section (2), the secured creditor may take recourse to one or more of the following measures to recover his secured debt, namely;
(a)Take possession of the secured assets of the Borrower/Guarantor including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale for realizing the secured asset;
(b)Take over the management of the business of the Borrower including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale for realizing the secured asset:
Provided that the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale shall be exercised only where the substantial part of the business of the Borrower is held as security for the debt;
Provided further that where the management of whole of the business or part of the business is severable, the secured creditor shall take over the management of such business of the borrower which is relatable to the security for the debt and under other applicable provisions of the said Act.
Your attention is invited to provisions of sub-section (8) of Section 13 of the Act, in respect of time available, to redeem the secured assets.
You are also put on notice that in terms of section 13(13) the Borrower/Guarantor shall not transfer by way of sale, lease or otherwise the said secured assets detailed in Schedule B hereunder without obtaining written consent of the secured creditor.
It is further brought to your notice that any contravention of this statutory injunction/ restraint, as provided under the said Act, is an offence and if for any reason, the secured assets are sold or leased out in the ordinary course of business, the sale proceeds or income realized shall be deposited with the secured creditor. In this regard you shall have to render proper accounts of such realization / income.
This notice of Demand is without prejudice to and shall not be construed as waiver of any other rights or remedies which the secured creditor may have including further demands for the sums found due and payable by you.
This is without prejudice to any other rights available to the secured creditor under the Act and/or any other law in force. Please comply with the demand under this notice and avoid all unpleasantness.
In case of Non- compliance, further needful action will be resorted to, holding you liable for all costs and consequence.
Thanking you
Yours faithfully,
AUTHORIZED OFFICER

Root breaks Cook's England Test run record

Joe Root broke Alastair Cook's England Test record of 12,472 runs on the third day of the opening Test against Pakistan in Multan on Wednesday. The 33-year-old became England's highest run scorer in Tests, and the fifth highest of all time, when he drove Pakistan seamer Aamer Jamal for a straight boundary to reach the 71 he needed to surpass Cook.

Top-tier show: India back on track

After a difficult start to the T20 WC, top three batters come to the party against Sri Lanka

Skipper Harmanpreet Kaur smashed an unbeaten 52 off 27 balls vs Sri Lanka | AP

RECENTLY, researchers in Germany discovered an old piece by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, one of the most recognised and prominent music composers of the Classical era almost 233 years after his death. The newly discovered "Serenade in C" is a work made up of seven miniature pieces for a string trio - which means it needs three artists to come together and be in sync to play it. For India, at the Dubai International Stadium on Wednesday evening against Sri Lanka, Mozart was never going to inspire as such, but just like the newly discovered piece, India needed a specific trio to stand up. To make the maximum impact possible in the group of death where only minimum slip-ups were allowed.

Heading into the fixture, their opening pair of Smriti Mandhana and Shafali Verma was not clicking and they needed a net run-rate boost to remain in the contest. The criticism about not going after Pakistan's small total was immense and to add to that, captain Harmanpreet Kaur had dropped to number four in that fixture after playing at three in the run-up to the marquee event. The opening pair has a reputation for being one of the most explosive duos in the women's game. After the Australian pair of Beth Mooney and Alyssa Healy, they have the most runs in partnership for the opening wicket. If Mandhana's backfoot play is one of the best in the world, one cannot set a field when Verma is firing on all cylinders. They have done it before for India and it was high time they showed up as a duo.

Then there is Kaur. A look at her previous hits at the ICC events would tell you that if Kaur has not already performed at the tournament, she is always circling around in search of that one knock. One can assure you that most likely, it would come at the most crucial time in the tournament. Whether it was her 171 not out against Australia in England or it was her T20I century against New Zealand in the 2018 T20 World Cup. If Kaur had not already given a blockbuster, be rest assured that a knock is coming.

In Dubai, that is what happened. It started with Mandhana and Verma finding their vintage self in the powerplay. It took Verma the third over to finally find the rope that was against Udeshika Prabodhani's pace. Mandhana followed to show 'intent'. By the end of the powerplay, India had 41 runs on the board. Not like one of the greatest hits form Mozart, but this was significant work nonetheless.m

Straight out of the powerplay, Mandhanan hit India's first six of the tournament. It took them the third fixture to do so, but Mandhana was in her groove. The opposition captain Chamari Athapaththu did everything in her capacity to slow the scoring rate down but nothing helped. Their massive win against the same opposition a few months ago felt like a memory from different times. Mandhana pulled her way to her first fifty of the tournament, but lost her way trying to go for a second run that was never there. Verma, who played second fiddle followed the suit, making room for Kaur to start her show.

What followed was a vintage Kaur show with the bat. Even when she lost Jemimah Rodrigues for 16, there was no stopping the captain. That world-feared clean-as-a-whistle hitting gave her most of the runs, but the running between the wickets with Richa Ghosh at the other end was 'all gas no breaks.' As a result, 59 runs came in the final five overs of the first innings, taking the total to 172/3. "That was old Harman Preet Kaur we witnessed today," said former captain Mithali Raj on air. In the end, Sri Lanka was blown away, falling short by 82 runs.

Mozart, if he would have been a fan of the T20 game, would have loved what India's top three dished out today. While the tournament is still very much open, nothing is certain for India. But for now, they added one more chapter to their vintage mixtape under lights in Dubai.

Brief scores: India 172/3 in 20 ovs (Kaur 52 n.o, Mandhana 50, Shafali 432) bt Sri Lanka 90 all out in 19.5 ovs (Kavisha 21, Kanchana 19; Arundhati 3/17, Renuka 2/16, Asha 3/19).

Annerie Dercksen, the heir apparent of Marizanne Kapp

KALYANI MANGALE @ Dubai

ANNERIE Dercksen looked up to Marizanne Kapp since she was a young player coming through provincial cricket ranks in South Africa. So much so that she wanted to have her hero's number on her back at any cost. "In provincial cricket back home I had to pick a shirt number and I needed to be fast with it. I first wanted seven because I think I saw Kappie wearing it and she was my hero," Dercksen told this daily before the World Cup.

"They said no sorry seven is taken and then I wanted 17 because of AB de Villiers and then they said no sorry 17 is taken. I continued like that for a while but like all the shirts I wanted were taken and then I was like 77 can work and that one was available." So much was the admiration for Kapp that she looks at her jersey number as a double tribute to Kapp.

Coming into the South African pace attack that consisted of the likes of Kapp, Shabnim Ismail and Ayabonga Khaka was never an easy job, but the youngster, who started out as a spinner, was welcomed in the group like one of their own. "I was a spinner up until three years ago. Our bowling coach had to put a lot of work into me because I was a spray gun and didn't know where the ball was going. Last year I came into the environment and Shabnim was still playing, Marizanne was there and so was Ayabonga. They were probably the best fast-bowling group going around in the world. Just to be able to be in their environments and learn from them was amazing. I wouldn't say I felt pressure because I don't think you can mention my name in the same bracket as them. Now, Shabnim is not around but Kappie has been nice to me. She has taken me under her wing. I feel grateful to be able to learn from her and be in the same environment just to see how they go about this. I think I'm privileged."

Annerie Dercksen | AP

Along with Kapp, the other team members, especially the pace unit, have welcomed Dercksen into the setup with open arms. With the enthusiasm of youth, she has admitted to being overzealous in the nets and wanting to charge in and bowl fast. The group has calmed her down knowing what it takes to sustain at the international level. "The pace attack, we call ourselves the bomb squad. That's sort of a response to the Springboks at the Rugby World Cup. It's made up of the people that make an impact on the team. Usually, when I'm bowling, I've got Klass and Tumi Sekhukhune next to me and I want to go and bowl fast. There is a special bond even with Ayabonga. I am excited to see where we can go in the future."

In this World Cup, Derksen's first one as a player, she has not had many opportunities to showcase her talent either with bat or bat, but whenever she has, the 23-year-old has made her presence felt at the highest level. Against Scotland, she only bowled an over and took a wicket in that. And her hero is already impressed. Kapp had nothing but praise for Dercksen after the big win against Scotland. "I'm so happy for her with the few knocks she has had. When I first saw her, I immediately said, this kid is going to be good. I feel like there's still so much more that she can do. And we have not seen half of it yet."

While the senior player is still around and the baton is still in the hands of Kapp to lead the charge of the world-class pace attack, with the way Dercksen is going, the coronation in not too far. Brief scores: South Africa 166/5 in 20 ovs (Wolvaardt 40, Brits 43, Kapp 43) bt Scotland 86 in 17.5 ovs (Mlaba 3/12, Tryon 2/22, de Klerk 2/15).

Windies eye win and run-rate boost

West Indies look to beat Bangladesh and stay in the hunt. A look...

WILL SKIPPER MATTHEWS FIRE?

In West Indies' win against Scotland and even in the loss against South Africa, their captain Hayley Matthews has not fired up yet. One of the top-ranked all-rounders in the world needs to fire for her country if they are to cruise past Bangladesh in Sharjah.

NOTHING TO LOSE FOR BANGLADESH

Bangladesh are still in contention for the knockouts, but the fixture against the WI is their opportunity to win another match in the group stage. Their bowlers have done consistent job for Nigar Sultana.

Rinku, Nitish give India another T20I series win

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

A RAPID 53 (29b, 5x4, 3x6) from Rinku Singh and a quickfire 74 (34b, 4x7, 7x6) from Nitish Kumar Reddy helped India take an unassailable 2-0 lead in the ongoing T20I series against Bangladesh here at the Arun Jaitley Stadium, Delhi on Wednesday.

When the visitors inserted the hosts on a slightly tacky looking New Delhi surface — a far cry from the highway-like strips during this season's Indian Premier League (IPL) — they may have had designs of restricting India from running up a big score. When Sanju Samson, Abhishek Sharma and skipper Suryakumar Yadav departed inside the powerplay, those designs seemingly had legs. However, Reddy, who won his maiden India cap a few days ago, showed his hitting prowess in the company of Rinku.

With Riyan Parag and Hardik Pandya also cashing in at the death, all the Bangladesh spinners took a beating. The presence of dew may have made it a bit challenging but the visitors were never going to seriously challenge the target. In the end, they managed only 135/9. Brief scores: India 221/9 in 20 ovs (Nitish 74, Rinku 53, Hardik 32; Rishad 3/55) bt Bangladesh 135/9 in 20 ovs (Mahmudullah 41, Nitish 2/23, Varun 2/19).

No confidence motion against Usha on IOA EC's SGM agenda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IN response to Indian Olympic Association president PT Usha's call for the general body meeting, executive members of the body on Wednesday issued a notice for a special general meeting. The notice of the SGM was signed by Kalyan Chaubey, joint secretary and acting chief executive officer. The SGM has been called on October 25 at the Olympic Bhawan, New Delhi.

Among the 26 items listed on the agenda of the SGM, the last one is the vote of no-confidence against the IOA president. The agenda has been set following a directive from 12 members of the executive council of the IOA. As per the agenda, the executive council will discuss and consider a motion of no confidence against the president in light of alleged constitutional violations and actions potentially detrimental to Indian sports. Other items listed on the agenda are failure to convene executive council meetings, unilateral decisions regarding the Paris Games, show cause notice to IOA treasurer Sahdev Yadav, and appointment of the CEO.

Line judges out, AI technology in: Wimbledon breaks with tradition

AGENCIES @ London

THAT long-held Wimbledon tradition of line judges dressed in elegant uniforms is no more. The All England Club announced on Wednesday that artificial intelligence will be used to make the 'out' and 'fault' calls at the championships from 2025. Wimbledon organisers said the decision to adopt live electronic line calling was made following extensive testing at the 2024 tournament and "builds on the existing ball-tracking and line-calling technology that has been in place for many years."

"We consider the technology to be sufficiently robust and the time is right to take this important step in seeking maximum accuracy in our officiating," said Sally Bolton, chief executive of the All England Club. "For the players, it will offer them the same conditions they have played under at a number of other events on tour."

Bolton said Wimbledon had a responsibility to "balance tradition and innovation."

"Line umpires have played a central role in our officiating set-up at the championships for many decades," she said, "and we recognise their valuable contribution and thank them for their commitment and service."

Switzerland's Stan Wawrinka jokes with a line judge during his match in Wimbledon Championships in 2019 | AP

Line-calling technology has long been used at Wimbledon and other tennis tournaments to call whether serves are in or out. The All England Club also said Wednesday that the ladies' and gentlemen's singles finals will be scheduled to take place at the later time of 4 pm local time on the second Saturday and Sunday, respectively — and after doubles finals on those days. Bolton said the moves have been made to ensure the day of the finals "builds towards the crescendo of the ladies' and gentlemen's singles finals, with our champions being crowned in front of the largest possible worldwide audience."

Sinner beats Shelton

SHANGHAI: World No 1 Jannik Sinner will face Daniil Medvedev in the Shanghai Masters quarterfinals after both had straight-set victories on Wednesday. Sinner put some old demons to rest in overcoming American Ben Shelton 6-4, 7-6 (1), while Medvedev took out Greece's Stefanos Tsitsipas 7-6 (7/3), 6-3.

Carlos Alcaraz and Novak Djokovic also progressed to the next round after comfortable wins. But World No 3 Alexander Zverev is out after losing to 66th ranked David Goffin 6-4, 7-5. Shelton, ranked 16, knocked Sinner out at the same stage last year but the Italian looked confident from the start and won in 88 minutes. The US Open champion pulled ahead in the ninth game of the first set, breaking when Shelton hit long, then dominated the second set tiebreak.

RANJI TROPHY

Sai Sudharsan determined to make a mark in red-ball cricket

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

AS India continue to prepare and get ready for the eight Test matches ahead, the one highly talked about spot is the back-up opener. With Rohit Sharma and Yashasvi Jaiswal being regular openers, the selectors and team management would be looking at standby options who can travel with the team to Australia.

Keeping this in mind, Tamil Nadu opener B Sai Sudharsan is keen to start the Ranji season on a positive note. A proven performer in white-ball cricket, the youngster is not thinking about the IPL mega auction and wants to start well against Saurashtra in Coimbatore.

"I am not thinking about the IPL auction right now. My focus is on the Ranji trophy and the Test matches that are also coming. My focus is to do well for Tamil Nadu and try and make it to the national team in both formats," Sai Sudharsan told this daily.

Tamil Nadu will be led by Sai Kishore and L Balaji is the new coach. "We have a good team. The team has the right mixture of experience and youth. We are keen to start the season on a positive note and carry forward the momentum," said Sai Sudharsan.

Saurashtra are always a competitive side and they have been in the same Group as Tamil Nadu for a while. "At this level (first-class) none can take any team lightly. We are aware of the task ahead and will play accordingly. We do not believe in putting unnecessary pressure on ourselves. As I said earlier we wish to start well and go with the flow," explained the 22-year old.

B Sai Sudharsan

In his last first-class game, Sudharsan played for Rest of India in the Irani Trophy, got a good start but couldn't convert the same. "I had a decent start in the Irani Trophy. Could have definitely converted it into a big score as it was a good wicket to bat on. I was disappointed, but then it happens and it was part of the game. I am keen to make amends in the Ranji and perform well," he insisted.

The youngster derives strength from his County stint where he made a century for Surrey. "The experience at Surrey was pleasant. Glad to make some runs. Professional County cricket is tough and I am happy that I got to spend some time in England where the conditions are different before our domestic season," he said.

Sai Kishore has been leading the Tamil Nadu side with a lot of fire and zest. He is a captain who does not believe in dull draws and always looks for results. "He has a positive attitude and always wants the team to win. He prepares us mentally on how one should go and try for full points. Plus he backs the players," said Sudharsan.

Multicultural Golu

THE story goes: 400 years ago, a Mysuru maharaja realised he did not have enough troops to secure a victory. Thinking quick, the maharani made rows of clay dolls which came alive to aid him in battle. According to Sreedevi Venkatesh, a resident of Malleswaram, this is the origin of Gombe Habba and the reason why her family adds new dolls each year to their 5,000 strong collection. This year, her display is a confluence of cultures with half the room showcasing traditional dolls and the other half featuring dolls collected from her travels. A 200-year-old set of heirloom Pattada Gombe (royal/ ceremonial) features prominently, surrounded by scenes from Indian epics. Porcelain dolls of the Japanese royal court traditionally displayed at 'Hinamatsuri', a festival celebrating the life and health of daughters, immediately draw attention. Placed beside are a wooden carving of Garuda and Vishnu from Bali, dolls of Kumari Devi from Nepal and even a statue of Buddha from Cambodia.

Explaining her display, she says, "When I travel to other places, I bring back culture and tradition in the form of dolls."

Sreedevi Venkatesh is welcoming visitors until October 15 from 11am to 3pm. Call: 98457 95572

DOLLS STEP OUT OF THE BOX

With dolls from Dr Rajkumar's films, miniatures from upcycled material, and 200-year-old traditional dolls displayed alongside those from around the world, B'lureans are finding unique ways to display their collections this Gombe Habba

PIC: NAGARAJA GADEKAL AND ALLEN EGENUSE J

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

WHILE traditional dolls of gods and the Mysore Dasara procession remain staples in every home that celebrates Gombe Habba, Bengalureans are looking for something more – unique dolls and models to make their Golu stand out from the rest. Amidst the hustle and bustle of crowds doing last-minute Dasara shopping, RN Arun, owner of Varna, a doll store in Malleswaram says, "People come looking specifically for unique models. Last year, it was the Chadrayaan-3 and the new Parliament building. This year, people have asked for Ayodhya's Ram Mandir the most. I've even sourced superhero dolls because the kids love them."

With all this interest in off-beat dolls and models, Bengalureans are putting a creative twist to tradition. Here are some glimpses:

Turning Reel Into Reality

Prithvi Prabhu, a 24-year-old artist is using the occasion to pay tribute to Kannada actor Dr Rajkumar, recreating iconic scenes from the celebrated actor's films such as Kaviratna Kalidasa, Bhakta Prahlada, and Bangarada Manushya. Prabhu has tried to make the models as movie-accurate as possible. "I use air-dry clay to make facial expressions on Ken dolls. The joints of those dolls don't move so we had to break them and reattach them to recreate the exact poses. The costumes are handmade to match the exact look from the famous song or scene that it's inspired from," he explains. The dolls have been displayed alongside 12 figures of vintage Kannada film heroines which Prabhu created using modified Barbie dolls last year.

This display in Basavanagudi is open to the public until October 12 from 10am to 10pm. Call: 96118 16554

Mini Marketplace

A marketplace made out of miniature figures adorns the home of 68 year-old artist, Hema Rajaram. It showcases a temple surrounded by models of a bakery, pet store, automobile shop, organic store, among others. The tiny items in these shops, right down to the mustard seeds on the restaurant's chutney, are all made by her. Between eight inches and 1/10th of a millimetre in size, each element has been made using air-dry clay and waste materials like scraps of fabric, styrofoam, toothpicks, bulbs and thermocol. Rajaram started making dolls and models as an 8 year-old child for her family's Golu. 60 years later, she has spent hours each day on her intricate craft and has no plans of stopping. "I spent 12 to 14 hours everyday making these dolls. I hope that children who come to see my display will become curious and want to make their own dolls, " she says.

(Hema Rajaram's home in Banashankari is open to visitors until October 12 from 4pm to 6pm. Call: 9008 401952)

ASSISTING SENIOR CITIZENS - REVERSE MORTGAGE LOAN

A Reverse Mortgage Loan (RML) is a program created by the National Housing Bank (NHB) aimed at assisting senior citizens (individuals over 60 years old) in receiving regular payments from a lender by using their home as collateral, while still retaining ownership and living in the property. Borrowers are not obligated to make any monthly repayments of principal or interest during their lifetime.

By Sunil Singhi
Director
V Singhi Consultants Pvt Ltd

How Does it Work?

- The bank assesses the value of the property and determines the eligible loan amount based on factors such as the borrower's age, property value and interest rates.
- Individuals over 60 years old can mortgage their loan-free and self-owned residential property to receive a steady income.
- Those living in rented accommodations are not eligible for Reverse Mortgages.
- Banks usually provide 60% to 80% of the property's market value.(As per banks terms and conditions).
- Payments can be made in lump sums, monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or annually over a period of 15 to 20 years.
- A key advantage of Reverse Mortgages is that borrowers do not need to repay the loan; they can continue living in the house.
- After the borrower's death, the bank can either sell the property or wait for a legal heir to repay the loan and reclaim the property.
- The surviving spouse of the primary applicant can continue to live in the property until their own death.
- The loan will be disbursed by the Bank in regular monthly payments as an annuity. A lump sum of up to 20% of the eligible loan amount may be provided only if used for the medical expenses of the Reverse Mortgage Loan applicants.
- The maximum eligible lump sum is limited to ₹15 lakhs.

Benefits: -

- Tax-free Income: The loan amount is not considered income, so it's tax-free.
- No monthly repayments: The borrower doesn't need to worry about monthly payments.
- Home Retention: The borrower can stay in the property until they pass away or sell the property.
-Supplemental Income: Provides a regular income stream, helping retirees cover living expenses or healthcare costs without the need to sell their house.

Eligibility: -

- Must be an Indian citizen aged over 60 years.
- Married couples can qualify as joint borrowers, with at least one spouse over 60 and the other no younger than 55, as determined by the RML lender.
- Must own a residential property (house or flat) in India, with clear title proving ownership.
- The property should be free from any encumbrances.
- The remaining lifespan of the property should be at least 20 years.
- The property must be used as the borrower's permanent primary residence.

Interest Rates: -

Interest rates vary depending on the bank and market conditions. Some banks offer fixed interest rates, while others offer variable rates.

Repayment: -

A Reverse Mortgage Loan becomes due and payable only when the last surviving borrower either passes away or permanently vacates the home. The loan will be settled using the proceeds from the sale of the mortgaged property.

QUICKFIX

VEGETABLE NUGGETS

INGREDIENTS

- Potato: 1 cup, boiled, peeled and mashed
- Cabbage, carrot: 1/4 cup each, grated
- Capsicum: 1/4 cup, chopped
- Paneer: 1/2 cup, chopped finely
- Green chilli: 3, chopped
- Salt to taste
- Ginger: 1/2 tsp
- Garlic: 1/2 tsp
- Red chilli powder: 3/4 tsp
- Corn flour: 5 tbsp dissolved in 1/4 cup of water
- Bread crumbs: 2 cups
- Vegetable oil

METHOD

- In a bowl, add mashed potato, cabbage, carrot, capsicum, paneer, ginger, garlic, green chilli, salt and red chilly powder. Mix it well.
- Divide the mixture into 17-20 equal portions. Make small nuggets from each portion of the mixture, and prepare them in cylindrical shapes.
- Dissolve the corn flour in water. Take one nugget and dip it in the corn flour paste, then coat it in bread crumbs.
- Heat oil in a pan, and deep fry the nuggets on a low to medium flame till golden and crisp from both sides.
- Serve hot with lemon and garlic chutney.

How do I manage festive calories?

Managing festive calories and weight can be challenging, but it can be done with these tips.

- Festivals are all about sweets, which pile up calories with a snap of your fingers. Focus on traditional, homemade dishes and avoid store-bought sweets and snacks. Eat slowly, savour your food, chew your food well and stay hydrated throughout the day.
- Balance your plate and make healthy choices by skipping sugar-laden drinks, alcohol, and heavy starters. Go straight for soup, salads, and protein-based dishes as these are filling and help manage portion size.

ASK AN XPERT

- Instead of fried samosas, try baked or air-fried versions. Instead of sugary gulab jamun and high-calorie laddoos, opt for fruit-based desserts, coconut or oat-based laddoos, roasted makhana, fresh fruits and nuts.
- No matter how busy you are, include physical activity. Aim for 30 minutes of moderate-intensity exercise daily and two weekly sessions of strength training targeting all major muscle groups. Dancing at Garba can also help in burning calories.
- Post-festive season, get back on track as soon as possible, and resume your regular diet and exercise routine. Drink plenty of water and consider a gentle detox.

UPAVISTHA KONASANA BLANKET (SEATED STRADDLE POSE SITTING UPRIGHT BLANKET)

This pose prepares the body for the foundational pose, Upavistha Konasana, and its variations. It is also a supportive variation of Seated Straddle Pose Variation Sitting Upright. It is a beautiful practice for students with limited flexibility in the hips and hamstrings. This asana helps to get the alignment right, maintains an upright posture. Using a prop encourages the students to focus on breathing as the discomfort in the hips and knees decreases.

STEPS

- Fold a blanket and place it on the mat. Start the asana seated in Dandasana Blanket.
- Blanket support creates a forward tilt in your pelvis and prevents slouching.
- Sit on the edge of the blanket, keeping your legs together, hands on the side of your body. Straightening the spine, take a few breaths.
- Inhale, widen your leg without overstretching your inner thighs or hamstrings.
- Take your hands behind the back with the fingers pointing back.
- Point your knees and the toes up, ensuring not to curl them.
- Finally, stretch your spine and soften your shoulders, engaging the core.
- Stay here for about six breaths or as per your comfort.
- Slowly release the pose and return to Dandasana Blanket and counter the stretch with Seated Wind Release Pose for a good 1-3 minutes of each flow.
- Finally, relax in Staff Pose Hands Back Knees Bent.

BENEFITS

- Stretches and strengthens hamstrings, calf, lower back, hip flexors, hips, knees, ankle joints and pelvic muscles.
- Cultivates suppleness in the groin and inner thighs.
- Lengthens the torso, improving spinal health.
- Increases hips' range of motion.
- Improves the flexibility of the legs and lower back.
- Prepares the body for advanced Upavistha Konasana Variations.
- Helps broaden the chest and shoulders.
- Strengthens and lengthens rib cage, upper back, and upper abdomen.
- Ensures the intercostal muscles are efficiently used.
- Helps restore curvature of the spine.
- Calms the mind, and energises the body.
- Helps relieve mental stress or tension.
- Promotes a smooth flow of prana (energy) throughout the body.
- Ensures outward flow of negative energy (apana vayu) and releases stored tension.
- Aids students with urinary disorders.
- Reduces menstrual pain and the symptoms of endometriosis in women.
- Treats ailments related to hormonal imbalances, infertility, or polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS).
- Improves functioning of the digestive and reproductive systems.
- Improves blood circulation and tones the kidneys.
- Included in power and vinyasa yoga sequences.
- Can be practiced by all, including active in sports.
- Balances the Root and Sacral Chakras and controls Agni (fire element) connected to Manipura Chakra.

LIMITATIONS

- Students with any injury at the ankle, knee, or hip joints, lower back, spine, hamstrings, legs, or have undergone any recent abdominal, knee, hip surgery, or severe hip arthritis, knee joints or severe lower back pain, sacroiliac joint pain, should avoid this.
- People suffering from weak musculature or general body weakness, brittle bones, or migraine, should avoid holding the pose longer.
- Pregnant women should not follow this asana during their initial stage.

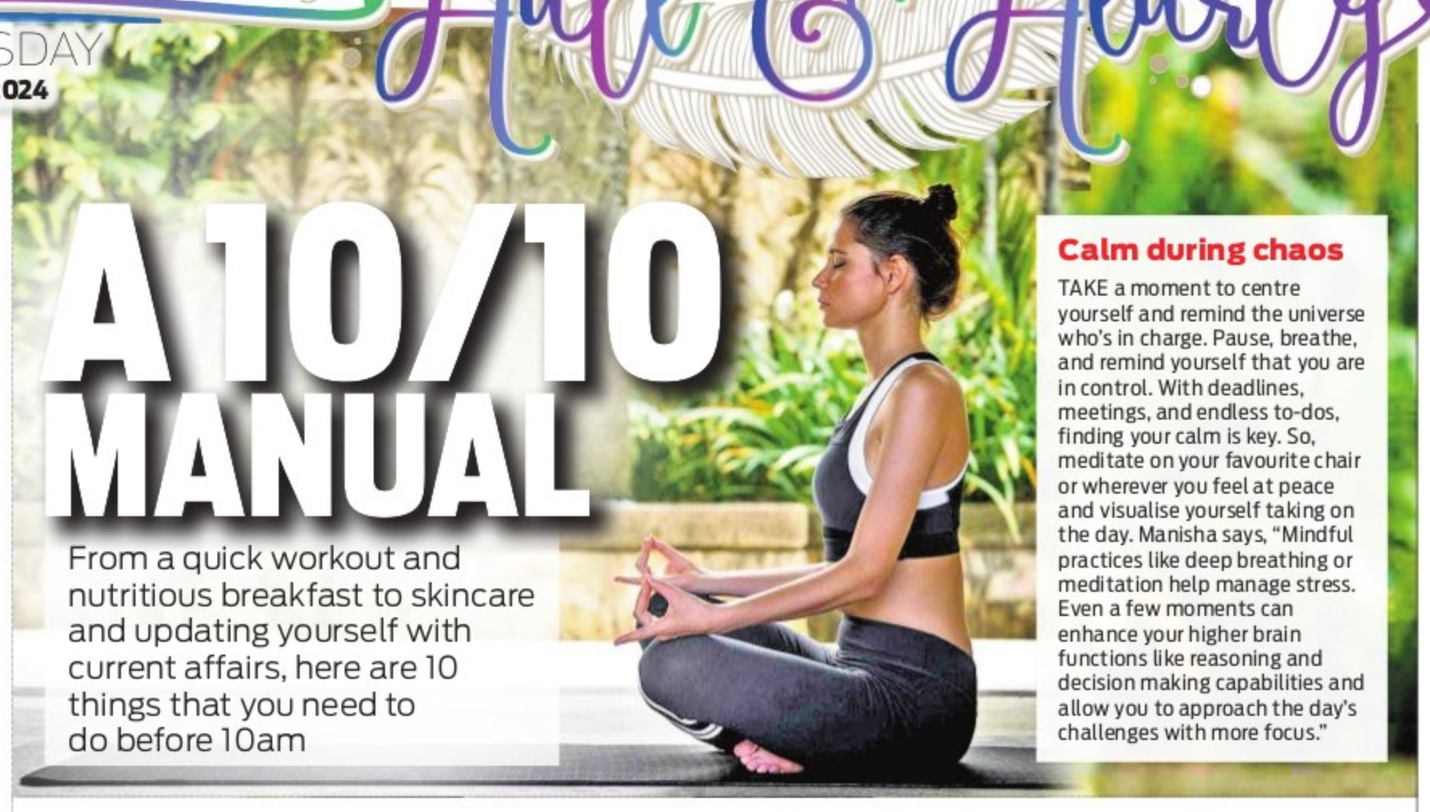
A 10/10 MANUAL

From a quick workout and nutritious breakfast to skincare and updating yourself with current affairs, here are 10 things that you need to do before 10am

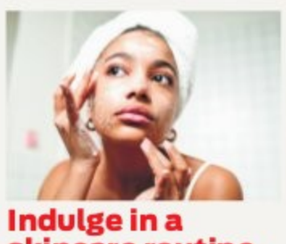


Calm during chaos

TAKE a moment to centre yourself and remind the universe who's in charge. Pause, breathe, and remind yourself that you are in control. With deadlines, meetings, and endless to-dos, finding your calm is key. So, meditate on your favourite chair or wherever you feel at peace and visualise yourself taking on the day. Manisha says, "Mindful practices like deep breathing or meditation help manage stress. Even a few moments can enhance your higher brain functions like reasoning and decision making capabilities and allow you to approach the day's challenges with more focus."

Flex and have fun

IT is important to keep your mind and body in sync is movement. And no, not just walking to the kitchen or taking the stairs. A proper workout. If you're someone who is more into cardio, dance around your room like no one is watching. Who needs gym membership when you have your own private studio? Varma says, "Physical activity, even if it's as simple as dancing or sports involvement, is great for improving mood and focus."



Indulge in a skincare routine

APPLY your skincare products with the precision of a surgeon. Your face deserves an A+ glow too. Even if your day gets chaotic, let your skin be the one thing that's always on point! Varma says, "A morning self-care routine, even if very simple, can become an important part of mental well-being. It's those small things we do for ourselves that help us start the day feeling good."

Get in your fuel

WHY settle for an empty stomach when you can begin your day with a hearty meal? And no, your iced coffee doesn't count as breakfast fuel. Varma notes, "Eating a nutritious meal at the start of your day can lead to better focus and energy, whether you are heading to work, meetings, or just managing your life."

AASHNA REDDY

BEING a morning person or having the mentality to be one isn't for the weak. Ever caught yourself in a 3am existential crisis, plotting a complete life makeover? It's when someone considers becoming that person – the one who has got it all together before sunrise. To shed light on how morning routines can elevate our lives, we turned to Manisha Varma, a counselling psychologist who has more than two decades of expertise in mental well-being. She emphasises that our morning habits do more than just help us look put together, they can significantly influence our mindset and overall well-being.

So, here are 10 sunrise secrets and (hopefully) getting your act together before noon. No pressure, it's perfectly fine even if you can't keep up.

Fuel your mind

FILL it with knowledge like you're binge-watching your favourite series. Get into your trusted newspaper, a good book, or a podcast like you're uncovering the latest gossip. Plus you will feel like a news connoisseur when you drop current affairs in a casual conversation.

Plan your day down to the last detail

ORGANISE your schedule like you're plotting a takedown From meetings to personal errands and everything in between, make each moment count. Every minute wasted is a minute you could have spent being productive.

Don't sleep in

GET up before the sunlight even thinks of stealing your spotlight. How satisfying would you feel while gracefully sipping coffee as others are still trying to find their socks? Snoozing your alarm is so last season. Try to be the person others aspire to be, not the person who aspires to be someone else. On the importance of waking up early, Varma says, "The way we start our morning often sets the tone for the entire day. Waking up with purpose and intention creates a ripple effect, improving mood, productivity, and even mental clarity throughout the day."

Morning jam

BLAST your beats and caffeinate your way through those morning lectures. The grind is real, the coffee is strong and the determination needs to stay high. Start off with your favourite playlist and get in the zone.

Dress like every day is fashion week

PUT on that outfit you have been wanting to wear for a while now, showing off that 'just rolled out of bed chic' vibe. Extra credit for making heads turn in the hallway, office, or wherever you are headed.

Acknowledge and appreciate

AS basic as it may seem, noting down a gratitude list that includes things as simple as your flawless hair, impeccable taste and the ability to brighten any room you enter can make a bigger impact than you think. Varma explains, "Journaling not only helps clarify your thoughts but also strengthens the neural pathways in your brain associated with positive thinking. It is a simple but powerful practice that can make a world of difference."

A silent epidemic

On World Mental Health Day, observed on October 10, a look at depression and its rapidly-growing prevalence

DR NEERAJ H

DEPRESSION is often dubbed the silent epidemic, affecting millions while remaining largely unaddressed in public discourse. In India, the burden of depression is staggering, with the World Health Organization (WHO) estimating that over 56 million Indians are affected. Despite its prevalence, stigma, lack of awareness, and insufficient mental health resources often prevent individuals from seeking help.

Symptoms

- Loss of Interest: A significant decrease in interest or pleasure in activities once enjoyed, including hobbies, socialising, or work.
- Fatigue: Persistent tiredness or lack of energy, making daily tasks feel overwhelming.
- Appetite Changes: Significant weight loss or gain due to changes in appetite.
- Feelings of Worthlessness: Persistent negative thoughts about oneself, feeling like a burden to others
- Irritability: Increased agitation or frustration over minor issues
- Thoughts of Death or Suicide: Recurrent thoughts about death, self-harm, or suicide.

If you or someone you know is experiencing these symptoms for more than two weeks, it's essential to seek help.

Medications

Antidepressants, such as SSRIs (selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors), are commonly prescribed and can help regulate mood and alleviate symptoms.

Therapy

Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) and other forms of psychotherapy are effective in addressing the underlying issues contributing to depression.

Screening for depression

We can use a simple screening tool based on three questions as designed by WHO:

- Over the past two weeks, have you felt little interest or pleasure in doing things you usually enjoy?
- Have you been feeling down, depressed, or hopeless most of the day, nearly every day?
- Have you experienced difficulty sleeping or sleeping too much, or have you noticed a change in your appetite?

If you answered 'Yes' to any of these questions, it may be time to seek support.

Let us commit to breaking the silence and addressing this critical public health challenge together. Remember, seeking help is a sign of strength, and the path to recovery begins with a single step.

'IT'S ESSENTIAL TO BE ACCOUNTABLE TO THOSE WHO INVEST IN YOU'

...says Dhruva Sarja as he acknowledges the struggles that come with each project and brims with confidence about Martin, slated to hit theatres in multiple languages this Friday

A SHARADHAA

FEW Kannada films spark as much anticipation as Dhruva Sarja's upcoming project, Martin. After nearly three years of dedication and hard work, the film is set for its release on October 11, and Dhruva Sarja is brimming with confidence about it. "This film has taken almost 252 days of shooting," he shares about the intensity of the process. "I believe in standing by my producer and team until the film's release because it's a collaborative effort."

Currently residing in his farmhouse, Dhruva Sarja's decision to distance himself from the city is deeply personal. "I wanted to be close to my brother, the late Chiranjeevi Sarja. His presence has been vital in my life," Dhruva Sarja explains, highlighting the emotional ties that fuel his creativity.

For Dhruva Sarja, his film journey hasn't been without challenges. While films like Addhuri, Bharjari, Bahaddur, and Pogaru have graced his career, he acknowledges the struggles that come with each project, including Martin. "I've never felt the need to spotlight my problems for sympathy. Every film presents its own challenges, and I'm still learning," Dhruva Sarja says. "It's a continuous journey, and I'm enjoying it while learning costly lessons from those around me. I know what newcomers go through; I've been there myself, and I am just five films in," he adds.

Martin is written by Dhruva Sarja's uncle, Arjun Sarja, directed by AP Arjun, and produced by Uday Mehta under the Vasavi Enterprises banner. Dhruva Sarja describes the film as a blend of action and romance but distinctly different from his previous work. "It's a character-oriented script with a lot of swag," Dhruva Sarja states, hinting at the film's dynamic nature. "There's a possibility of a sequel if all goes well, and I trust Uday Mehta to produce it."

According to Dhruva Sarja, Martin boasts a lavish budget of 80 crores and a landing cost of 120 crores, raising eyebrows across the industry. "Uday Mehta, as a producer, has a passion for storytelling. He believed in us, and that's why he was willing to invest beyond the initial budget. It's about confidence in the actor and the vision," Dhruva Sarja explains.

The actor also talks about the ambitious visual effects in Martin, featuring over 5,000 segments and a 52-day climax shoot involving popular fight masters Ravi Varma and the Ram-Lakshman duo. He asserts, "This kind of commitment to quality is what we need in our films, and there are many highlights to look forward to."

As the film nears its release, discussions about the relationship between directors and actors arise. Dhruva Sarja reflects on his early days in street plays, saying, "AP Arjun gave me my first chance, and he remains my guru. I prefer to focus on the positive side of our collaboration." Playing Arjun Saxena in Martin, Dhruva Sarja describes his character as complex and multi-faceted. "This role is unlike anything I've done before. You'll have to watch it to understand the dual shades," he teases.

Despite the lengthy production time, Dhruva Sarja clarifies that scheduling conflicts with his other project, KD directed by Prem, was not an issue and mentions his commitment to finishing Martin before taking on new challenges.

Dhruva Sarja's involvement in the creative aspects of filmmaking is extensive. "I love being part of the entire process, from script to release. It's essential to be accountable to those who invest in you; their faith in my vision pushes me to strive for the best in every project," the actor concludes.

WORKING ON MARTIN HAS BEEN TRANSFORMATIVE: UDAY K MEHTA

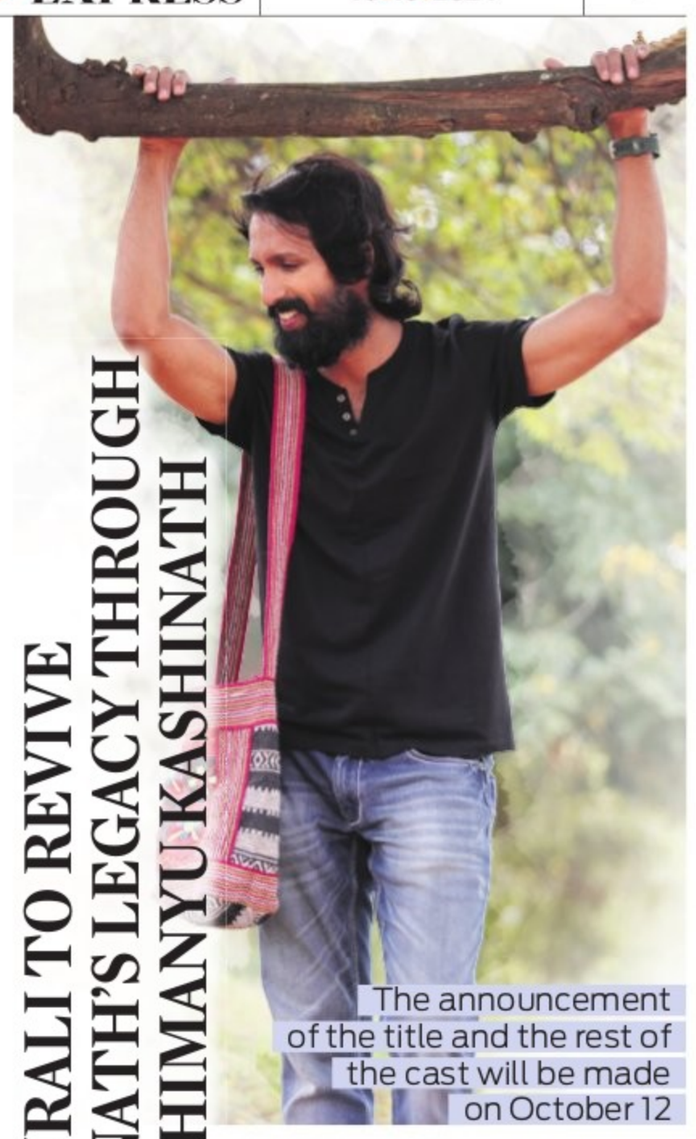
UDAY Mehta, the producer of the highly anticipated film Martin, describes his three-year journey on the project as a rebirth. "Working on Martin has been transformative; it's not just a film," he explains, sharing how it deepened his understanding of creativity.

He notes that Martin has redefined his perspective on cinema, showcasing its potential to inspire and connect with audiences. "The complexities of large-scale filmmaking have been both an exhilarating challenge and a rewarding journey," he adds, reflecting on the hurdles and success along the way.

Leading a talented team has explained the importance of collaboration for the Martin producer, revealing the magic of a shared vision. "Through Martin, we have reshaped his approach to storytelling, setting the stage for future projects with newfound insight and passion."

RAJ MURALI TO REVIVE KASHINATH'S LEGACY THROUGH SON ABHIMANYU KASHINATH



The announcement of the title and the rest of the cast will be made on October 12

CE FEATURES

TALK about Kannada cinema, and the name Kashinath evokes nostalgia and admiration—a legacy woven with humour and social commentary. Now, the baton is being passed to his son, Abhimanyu Kashinath, who is set for a new cinematic adventure with his upcoming film. Abhimanyu is eagerly awaiting the release of Ellige Payana Yavudo Daari on October 25 and has completed shooting for Suri Loves Sandhya. However, it is his next project with director Raj Murali that excites him, as it presents a unique opportunity to revive his father's iconic storytelling style in a modern context.

Directed by debutant Raj Murali, the film aims to resurrect the spirit of Kashinath's cinema, characterised by its sharp wit and societal reflections. "Kashinath had a unique ability to mirror society with humor," says Raj Murali, whose vision is to reintroduce that essence through the filmmaker's son, Abhimanyu. "We want to capture the heart of his storytelling while representing it in today's world, connecting both his father's fans and a new generation—a familiar echo of Kashinath with a new voice and face," adds the first-time director. "We're not just creating a film; we're reviving a legacy, and some replicas of Kashinath will be brought into this film." The film's title and cast will be unveiled at the launch event on October 12.

Kashinath

Raj Murali

The film will also feature several actors who have previously worked with Kashinath, creating a bridge between the past and the present. "Their involvement will enhance the film's authenticity and nostalgia," says Raj Murali, who adds that updates on the cast will be shared gradually.

Behind the camera, the team will include cinematographer Sandeep Valluri, music composer Abhinandan Kashyap, lyricist V Nagendra Prasad, and choreographer Bhushan for the song sequences.

As Abhimanyu steps into the spotlight, he is proud to carry the weight of his father's legacy. "This isn't just a story that Raj Murali is bringing to the screen; it's a continuation of Kashinath's vision," he says.

RJ Pradeepaa-Nagaraj Somayaji's Maryade Prashne locks Nov release

CE FEATURES

RJ Pradeepaa's production company, Sakkath Studio, which has carved a niche in the digital content landscape, is now set to make a significant mark with its debut feature film, Maryade Prashne. Known for its shows like Loose Connection, Honeymoon, By Mistake, and Hate You Romeo, the production house announced that its feature film will grace the screens on November 22.

Directed by Nagaraj Somayaji and including a revenge narrative, Maryade Prashne deals with the joys and challenges of middle-class life in one of Bengaluru's vibrant neighbourhoods. The film explores the often-ignored realities of life while steering clear of excessive violence, instead opting to explore its themes through relatable experiences and emotional depth.

The film consists of an ensemble cast like Shine Shetty, Sunil Raoh, Rakesh Adiga, Poornachandra Mysore, Rekha Kudligi, Nagendra Shah, and Teju Belawadi in prominent roles. Behind the scenes, the film features Arjun Ramu as the music director and Gowli fame Sandeep Valluri as the cinematographer, alongside a skilled team of editors and a colourist.

Looking ahead, Pradeepaa hints at an exciting future for Sakkath Studio, revealing that they have already secured three to four new stories for upcoming films. "The success of this film will certainly lead to many more talents and projects emerging from Sakkath Studio," he asserted. He also mentioned that the studio's commitment to nurturing fresh talent and creating engaging narratives will connect with audiences.

CHRISTOPHER NOLAN TO TEAM UP WITH MATT DAMON?

After the success of Oppenheimer, Christopher Nolan is all set to reunite with Universal Studios for his next. The production house recently distributed Nolan's Oppenheimer, which went on to bag several Academy Awards. While an official announcement is yet to be made, reports state that the upcoming film will be headlined by Matt Damon. The actor previously appeared in a cameo role in the director's 2014 sci-fi film, Interstellar. Scheduled to go on floors in early 2025, the yet-to-be-titled film is currently scheduled for a worldwide theatrical release on July 17, 2026. Reports further state that the film will be shot in IMAX. Apart from directing the film, Nolan will also write the screenplay, with his wife Emma Thomas producing under their Syncopy Inc banner.

DASARA 2024

REVEL IN Renewal

In the midst of the vibrant festival, Dasara brings with it a sense of renewal and celebration. Rooted in the triumph of good over evil, Dasara embodies themes of victory, gratitude, and the joy of life itself. This festival serves as a beautiful reminder that when we choose to celebrate our lives, we unlock a deeper appreciation for the everyday moments that fill our days. As is wisely said, "The more you celebrate your life, the more there is in life to celebrate." This sentiment resonates profoundly during Dasara, encouraging us to embrace joy and gratitude amidst life's challenges.

Dasara is not just a festival; it is a celebration of the resilience of the human spirit. During this time, we reflect on our personal victories and the strength we possess to overcome obstacles. Each event—whether it's the colourful processions, the dramatic reenactments of the Ramayana, or the community gatherings—serves as an opportunity to celebrate not only the triumphs of the past but also the promise of the future. This collective celebration creates a sense of community, reminding us that we are not alone in our struggles or successes.

Moreover, the beauty of Dasara is found in its rich symbolism, echoing the words: "There are always flowers for those who want to see them." This idea of looking for beauty amidst the chaos is especially poignant during the festival. The streets come alive with colours, lights, and floral decorations, encouraging us to see the abundance that life offers. The vibrant flowers symbolise hope and the possibilities that lie ahead. Just as we seek out these blossoms, we can also cultivate positivity in our lives by focusing on what we are grateful for.

In the spirit of Dasara, we are reminded to honour our victories, no matter how small. Each small success can be a flower in our garden of life, contributing to our overall happiness and sense of fulfillment. Whether it's achieving a personal goal, nurturing relationships, or simply finding joy in the present moment, celebrating these milestones enriches our lives.

As families gather to share meals, exchange gifts, and engage in rituals that have been passed down through generations, we find that the essence of Dasara extends beyond its religious significance. It becomes a time for personal reflection and community bonding, allowing us to express gratitude for the blessings we have received. Just as the festival highlights the triumph of good over evil, it also invites us to confront our own inner battles, encouraging growth and resilience.

Dasara is a time to celebrate the vibrancy of life, to recognise the beauty that surrounds us, and to acknowledge the strength within ourselves and our communities. By embracing the spirit of celebration, we can cultivate an attitude of gratitude that enriches our lives and those around us. Let us carry forward the lessons of Dasara—finding flowers in our journey and celebrating every moment, for each one holds the potential for joy and abundance.

Royal Affair

Experience the Grandeur of the Jamboo Savari Procession

The Grand Dasara Procession, known as Jamboo Savari, is the crowning event of the Mysuru Dasara celebrations, showcasing the city's rich cultural heritage and royal traditions. Scheduled for October 12, 2024, this spectacular procession attracts thousands of visitors and is marked by a blend of religious fervour, artistic expression, and community participation.

The Royal Idol

The centerpiece of the procession is the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari, which is carried in a golden howdah weighing over 750 kg atop an elephant named Abhimanyu.

Traditional Worship

Prior to the procession, a ceremonial worship (puja) is conducted by the royal family, including the Wodeyar descendants. This ritual takes place at the Mysore Palace, setting a sacred tone for the event.

Cultural Extravaganza

The procession features a vibrant array of cultural performances, including:

- Dancers and Musicians: Various folk dance troupes and music bands perform traditional Karnataka music, creating an electrifying atmosphere.
- Decorated Elephants and Animals: Alongside Abhimanyu, other caparisoned elephants, horses, and camels participate, adding to the grandeur.
- Colourful Tableaux: Elaborate floats representing different districts and themes showcase Karnataka's diverse culture and heritage.

Spectacular Route

The procession begins at the Mysore Palace and winds through key streets before culminating at Bannimantap, where a significant historical tree is located. This route is lined with enthusiastic spectators who come to witness this grand spectacle.

Military Salute

A ceremonial 21-cannon salute is fired as the procession commences, marking the significance of this royal event and honouring its historical roots.

Torchlight Parade

Following the Jamboo Savari, a captivating torchlight parade takes place in the evening at Bannimantap. This includes fireworks, daredevil motorcycle stunts by the Indian Army, and a mesmerizing laser show, concluding the day's festivities with a bang.

Community Engagement

The Jamboo Savari is not just a royal affair; it actively involves local communities through performances by various cultural troupes representing different art forms from across Karnataka.

Illuminating History

The centerpiece of the ten-day Mysore Dasara festival, Mysore Palace is illuminated daily with nearly 100,000 light bulbs from 7 PM to 10 PM, attracting thousands of visitors. Known as Amba Vilas Palace, this iconic structure stands in the heart of Mysore and has a rich history marked by construction, destruction, and reconstruction over six centuries.

The foundation was laid in the 14th century by Yaduraya Wodeyar, the founder of the Wodeyar dynasty. Initially built within the Old Fort, or Puragiri, the palace faced east towards the Chamundi Hills. This wooden fortress was the first in a series of palaces that would be constructed and reconstructed through the years.

Early history was tumultuous, with the palace suffering significant damage. In 1638, lightning struck, destroying the structure, which was then rebuilt by Ranadheera Kanthirava Narasaraja Wodeyar, the twelfth king. However, its wooden design made it susceptible to fire, leading to repeated damages and restorations.

In the late 18th century, Tipu Sultan demolished the palace and rebuilt it according to his architectural vision. Following his death in 1799, Krishnaraja Wodeyar III redesigned the palace in the Hindu architectural style.

The most significant transformation occurred between 1897 and 1912 after a devastating fire during Princess Jayalakshmmanni's wedding. Maharani Kempananjammanni Devi and Maharaja Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV commissioned British architect Henry Irwin to design a new palace, incorporating extensive architectural studies from across India.

Today, Mysore Palace is one of India's most popular tourist attractions, drawing over three million visitors annually. Managed by the Government of Karnataka, it remains the official residence of the Wadiyar dynasty.

Beyond the Facade

Hidden Treasures of Mysore Palace

Mysore Palace is a treasure trove of history, architecture, and cultural significance. While many are familiar with its grandeur and popularity, there are several lesser-known facts that add to the palace's intrigue. Here are some fascinating aspects of Mysore Palace that you might not know:

The Original Wooden Structure

The Mysore Palace was initially built as a wooden fortress inside the Old Fort, known as Puragiri, by Yaduraya Wodeyar in the 14th century. This wooden structure underwent multiple renovations and reconstructions due to fires and other damages.

The Devastating Fire of 1897

One of the most significant events in the palace's history is the fire that occurred during the wedding ceremony of Princess Jayalakshmmanni in 1897. This fire led to the commissioning of a new palace, designed by British architect Henry Irwin, which took 15 years to complete.

Architectural Blend

Mysore Palace is renowned for its unique architectural style, known as Indo-Saracenic. This style is a blend of Hindu, Mughal, Rajput, and Gothic elements, making the palace a standout example of eclectic architecture.

Design Supreme

Designed by Henry Irwin, an English architect, the style is that of Indo-Saracenic architecture, with elements from Islamic, Rajput, and Gothic architecture styles. It is a three-story, gray granite, structure, about 75 m (245 ft) long and about 48 m (156 ft) wide. There are square towers, five stories tall, at each of the cardinal points, topped with pink domes. The tallest tower, 44 m (145 ft) tall, is at the centre of the palace and is topped with a gold plated dome.

The façade has arches, canopies, and bay windows. There are seven arches and two smaller arches that connect to the centralized arch of the façade. Above the central arch is a sculpture of Gajalakshmi. The palace is surrounded by gardens. It has four entrances: The 'Jaya Maarthaanda' (main entrance) to the East, 'Jayarama' to the North, 'Balarama' to the South, and 'Varaha' to the West.

Entrance Gems

At the main entrance, there are bronze tigers, sculpted by British sculptor Robert William Colton, on either side of the walkways leading up to the palace. The Gombe Thotti, also known as The Dolls' Pavilion, was a place to display and worship dolls during Dasara festivities. Ane Bagilu, also known as Elephant Gate, is the main entrance to the palace's interior, symboliing power and strength.

Illumination Spectacle

The palace is illuminated with nearly 100,000 bulbs on Sundays, public holidays, and during the Dasara festival. This spectacular lighting transforms the palace into a dazzling sight, attracting millions of visitors each year.

Temples Within the Palace

The Mysore Palace complex houses 14 temples, some of which date back to the 14th century. These temples add to the spiritual and historical significance of the palace.

The Golden Howdah

During the Dasara festival, a ceremonial Golden Howdah (palanquin) is used to carry the idol of Goddess Durga. This Howdah is made from over 80 kilograms of gold, showcasing the opulence and grandeur of the Wodeyar dynasty.

Museum and Artefacts

After India gained independence, the royal family shifted to another palace, and the Mysore Palace was converted into a museum. The museum houses various artefacts, paintings, and royal clothing, providing a glimpse into the life of the Wodeyar dynasty.

Public Durbar Hall

The Public Durbar Hall, added during the reign of Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar in the 1930s, is a significant part of the palace. This hall was used by the Maharajas to address the public, highlighting the palace's role in governance and public life.

Light and Sound Show

The palace offers a light and sound show that narrates the 600-year-old history and cultural heritage of the Wodeyar dynasty. A must-see for anyone interested.

Residential Museum

The palace includes a residential museum and a private audience hall known as Ambavilasa. These areas provide insights into the private lives of the royal family and their administrative practices.

On the auspicious occasion of Dussehra, I extend warm greetings to everyone. This celebration brings us the triumph of good over evil. This festival reminds us of the universal values of righteousness, compassion, and knowledge that transcend faith and culture. May the spirit of Dussehra inspire us to promote harmony, understanding, and inclusive growth, fostering a society where everyone coexists in peace and prosperity. As an educational institution, we strive to nurture young minds with values of character, integrity, and social responsibility. On this auspicious day, let us reaffirm our commitment to mutual respect, tolerance, and unity. Wishing you all a joyful and enlightening Dussehra. May your celebrations be filled with love, laughter, and warmth.

Cultural Odyssey

The Evolution of Mysore Dasara Through the Ages

The name "Mysore" itself evokes an ancient legend, deriving from "Mahishasurana Ooru," which means "the town of Mahishasura" in Kannada. According to lore, Mysore was once under the tyrannical rule of Mahishasura, a demon king with the head of a buffalo. The tale tells of a divine battle fought atop Chamundi Hill, where Goddess Chamundeshwari, an incarnation of Goddess Parvati, vanquished the demon. This mythological victory is the heart of the Dasara celebrations, symbolising the triumph of virtue over vice.

Vijayanagara Era: The Festival's Genesis

The roots of Dasara trace back to the 15th century during the reign of the Vijayanagara Empire. This period saw the festival transform from a religious observance into a grand celebration of art, culture, and heritage. Under the patronage of the Vijayanagara kings, Dasara became an elaborate display of royal splendor, blending spiritual rites with cultural festivities.

Wodeyar Dynasty

Following the fall of the Vijayanagara Empire, the Wodeyars of Mysore continued and expanded the Dasara traditions. Raja Wodeyar I initiated the grand celebrations in 1610 at Srirangapatna, setting the stage for a rich legacy. The festival evolved under the Wodeyars, incorporating both religious rituals and royal festivities.

Royal Patronage

The tradition of holding a special durbar (royal assembly) at Mysore Palace was established during the reign of Krishnaraja Wodeyar III in 1805. This durbar became a central feature of the Dasara celebrations, attended by the royal family, dignitaries, and the public. The Wodeyars' dedication ensured that Dasara remained a cornerstone of Mysore's cultural identity, melding spiritual and martial elements into a grand spectacle.

Hyder Ali and Tipu Sultan

Despite the changes in leadership under Hyder Ali and Tipu Sultan, the Dasara festivities continued to flourish. Hyder Ali introduced lavish banquets, fireworks, and entertainment, while Tipu Sultan maintained the festival's essence, integrating elements reminiscent of ancient Olympic games.

British Era and Modern Transformation

The British era brought its own changes to the festival. With the restoration of Mummadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar III to the throne, the festival saw the introduction of the durbar, influenced by Mughal traditions. The pinnacle of Dasara grandeur was achieved during the reign of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV, featuring the king atop a decorated elephant in a golden howdah, symbolizing the zenith of royal magnificence.

Contemporary Celebrations

Today, Mysore Dasara, celebrated as "Nada Habba" or the state festival of Karnataka, illuminates the entire city with a breathtaking display. The Mysore Palace transforms into a dazzling spectacle, while the festival includes cultural programs, sports events, and the grand "Jamboo Savari" procession. This annual celebration, deeply rooted in history, continues to be a vivid manifestation of Mysore's rich cultural heritage and enduring traditions.

The Dasara festivities traditionally included a special durbar (royal assembly). This tradition began during the reign of Krishnaraja Wodeyar III in 1805, when he instituted a special durbar at the Mysore Palace for the Dasara celebrations. This event was attended by the royal family, special invitees, officials, and the public.

After the death of Srikanta Wadiyar in December 2013, the 2014 Dasara celebration featured the "Pattada Katti" (royal sword) placed on the golden throne. Since Maharaja Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar's accession in 2015, he has been overseeing the Dasara celebrations and durbar. The ninth day of Dasara, known as Mahanavami, remains particularly auspicious, marked by the worship of the royal sword and a grand procession involving elephants, camels, and horses.

Role of Yaduveer

Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, the current scion of the Wodeyar dynasty, plays a significant role in the Mysore Dasara celebrations. As the representative of the royal family, Yaduveer participates in various rituals and ceremonies throughout the festival. He is particularly involved in the Jamboo Savari procession, where he performs the traditional pooja and other rituals, upholding the age-old traditions of the Wodeyar dynasty. His presence adds a touch of royalty and historical significance to the festival, connecting the modern celebrations with the rich heritage of Mysore.

K.B.LINGARAJU VOWS

TO SUPPORT INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN CITY

K.B. Lingaraju, President of Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry (MCCI), who firmly believes that when industries grow at macro-level, unemployment could be eradicated.

He also feels that the government must provide adequate facilities to entrepreneurs. He is constantly working to that direction.

He believes that small and medium scale industries are the pillars of the country.

He emphasises that small industries should grow in line with large industries. He says that Mysuru is a very important district as far as industries are concerned.

He is bringing to the notice of the government and other concerned authorities about the availability of opportunities within the district for industrial development.

He is also constantly working for removal of bottlenecks pertaining to infrastructure. He is extending co-operation and also guiding new entrepreneurs.

After becoming the President of Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry, he has further extended his service areas, he says that crores of rupees in the form of taxes were being levied from Industrial Suburb, Bannimantap, Hebbal, Metagalli, Koorgalli, Belagola, Belavadi, Nanjangud and other industrial areas for providing infrastructure, but the development of these areas has become a nightmare.

He is constantly submitting memorandums to concerned Ministers, MLAs and officers for providing at least street lights, water, road, toilets etc., to these industrial areas which are lacking for the last several years. He says that the dream of setting up Mysuru Industrial Town Authority has not been made a reality even after two decades.

Being the President of Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry, K.B. Lingaraju's contribution for the development of Mysuru's industrial sector is remarkably impressive.

K.B. LINGARAJU'S PROFILE

K.B. Lingaraju is a Post Graduate from the University of Mysore, with GDC from Mysore Co-operative Union. He has been elected as the President of Mysore Chamber of Commerce & Industry at its General Body Meeting. He was born and brought up in a political and agriculture back-ground family.

His father Byrappa and mother Lakshmamma are running a factory in the name of 'Kiran Industry' manufacturing barbed wires and chain links.

K.B. Lingaraju has served in the Executive Committee of Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Indus-try for over 15 years. He is also a member of KAS-SIA and FKCCI, Bengaluru and has also served as the Secretary of KIADB Manufacturers Union.

Industrial Town Authority for Mysuru

In 2003, it was declared in the Gazette Notification about the setting up of but the same has not been executed till now.

Single tax system

Double tax payment to the Municipality and KIADB has to be avoided and single tax payment should be introduced. If, Mysuru Industrial Town Authority is established, it will look after all such issues.

MCC provides facilities

At least Rs. 50 crores should be earmarked for providing infrastructure facilities to Vishweshwaranagar, Bannimantap 'A' & 'B' Layouts and southern industrial areas. This amount should be released to the Mysore City Corporation (MCC) for taking up road, drainage and basic infrastructure facilities for the above mentioned areas.

Housing for workers

Housing facilities should be provided to industrial workers at the industrial areas it-self by making use of the central government schemes. Even for this, the Central government provide grants. The State government should carry out such labour oriented schemes through labour department, he opines.

More development if the government supports

K.B. Lingaraju says that packaging industry is doing well in Mysuru and box, wire, tyre factories besides engineering industries, which are located in Hebbal, Metagali, Yadavagiri, Koorgalli, Hootagalli were doing tremendous job.

Small and medium scale industries were supplying adequate quantity of these products to big industries and companies. Likewise, women from Hunsur, H.D. Kote, Nanjangud, Kollegal, T. Narasipur and other places are coming to Mysuru industrial areas in search of jobs everyday. But, if opportunities were created at taluk level, these women job seekers need not come here and people would get jobs locally, he emphasised.

Prevent problems from banks

He says that banks were troubling industries and that during COVID-19 pandemic most of the industries were badly hit, but somehow they were managing the show. Employees had been paid. But the lending banks were not giving enough time and even renewal was not done.

As such, Over Draft facility was not extended. Records relating to industries were not made available. The Lead Bank had been informed about this.

Allot space to entrepreneurs

A letter had been written to KIADB about non availability of space to entrepreneurs since 2013.

An appeal in this regard was also made to the former Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra who had positively responded.

After the inauguration of the 10 lane road, Mysuru could be reached from Bengaluru within 1.5 hours. As such, there was no problem for bringing raw materials from Bengaluru to Mysuru. Besides, air services, good railway connection with double track were also available which are helpful for industrial development.

He says at the same time, officers should work with willingness, commitment and dedication, he added and urged the authorities to provide all facilities.

K.B. Lingaraju is enthusiastic in providing support for Mysuru's industrial development.

The Golden Throne: A Regal Legacy of Mysore

Pic: Pramukh Arkalgud Ganeshamurthy

Srikanta Wadiyar of Mysore seated on the throne

The Golden Throne, or Chinnada Simhasana (Ratna Simhasana in Kannada), was the royal throne of the rulers of the Kingdom of Mysore. It is one of the main attractions of Mysore Palace. The throne is displayed for public viewing only during the Dasara festival; on the rest of the days, it is disassembled and stored in secure lockers within the palace.

The Throne

The throne comprises a main seat, steps leading to the seat, and a golden umbrella above it. Carved from figwood, the throne is decorated with ivory plaques and embellished with jewelry, gold, precious stones, and silver figurines by "Swarnakala Nipuna" Singannacharya. The balustrades of the steps are adorned with female figures (Salabhanjikeyaru). Each side of the throne is decorated with different motifs: elephants on the east, horses on the south, soldiers on the west, and chariots on the north. The trinities—Brahma in the south, Maheshwara in the north, and Vishnu in the center—are prominent features. The royal seat, called the Koormasana, is covered with cushions and pillows made from cloth studded with precious stones. The handrests are designed in the shape of half elephants and half lions. The back of the seat features artwork of birds, lions, and flowers, with Goddess Chamundeshwari at the center, flanked by Goddess Lakshmi and Goddess Saraswati, and surrounded by the asta dikpalakas (gods of the eight directions). The royal seat is supported by horses in a jumping pose, with Lord Brahma to the south, Lord Shiva to the north, and Lord Vishnu at the center. Lions are placed as symbols of victory. The edges of the seat are intricately carved with two horses, two tigers, and four swans. The backrest features the royal emblem of the Mysore kings, Ganda Berunda, beneath which is the inscription "Satyamevoodharaham," meaning "I shall uphold the truth always." The royal seat stands 2.25 meters in height, and the royal umbrella provides shade for the entire throne. The umbrella is studded with gems and features an inscription blessing the Mysore king. Atop the umbrella sits a celestial bird called Huma, a swan with an emerald gem in its beak, believed to bestow royal status on anyone who stands in its shadow.

Engravings

The "slokas" engraved on the rim of the umbrella are addressed to Krishnaraja Wadiyar III and refer to his ancestors from whom the throne has descended through generations. A rough translation of one "sloka" describes Krishnaraja Wadiyar as "Lord of the Earth" and son of the illustrious Chamaraja, resplendent with the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari: "... You are the Lord of Karnataka Ratna Simhasana... and this golden umbrella of the golden throne, which you have inherited from your illustrious ancestors, evokes the awe of the whole world."

History

According to tradition, the throne originally belonged to the Pandavas of Mahabharata fame and was located in Hastinapura. Kampilaraya brought the throne from Hastinapura to Penugonda, now in Andhra Pradesh, where it was buried. In 1336 AD, Vidyaranya, the royal preceptor of the Vijayanagar kings, revealed its location to Harihara I, one of the founders of the Vijayanagar empire, who then retrieved the throne. It was used by the Vijayanagar kings at Anegondi for over a century and a half. During the early 17th century, the governor of the Vijayanagar rulers at Srirangapatna obtained the throne. In 1609, the governor Srirangaraya gifted the throne to Raja Wodeyar, who ascended the throne in 1610 and inaugurated the Dasara festivities. Epigraphical evidence indicates that this royal throne was in the possession of Chikkadevaraya Wodeyar in 1699.

Use

The golden throne was historically associated with ceremonies such as the coronation of kings and the conduct of the Dasara Durbar. Today, it is displayed to the public only during the Mysore Dasara festival, when the Maharaja of Mysore conducts his private Durbar. The throne is under the joint guardianship of the royal scion and the Mysore Palace Board. For the rest of the year, the throne is kept in a high-security room. During the Mysuru Dasara, the king was traditionally seated upon the throne, which was placed on an elephant and paraded around Mysuru. In contemporary times, the Utsava M rti (festive idol) of Goddess Chamundeshwari is placed on the throne and paraded around Mysuru on the same elephant during the Mysuru Dasara.

A Kaleidoscope of Culture and Celebration

Mysore Dasara features a grand Jamboo Savari procession, Torchlight Parade, Food Carnival, Wrestling Tournaments, and vibrant cultural performances over 10 days.

The Royal Procession

The Jamboo Savari, also known as the Jumbo Savari, is the traditional procession held on the tenth day of Mysore Dasara, known as Vijayadashami. This procession is a highlight of the festival, showcasing the rich cultural and historical heritage of Mysore.

Historical Significance: The name "Jamboo Savari" has its roots in the local mythology. Originally termed "Jambi Savari," it was named after the Banni (Shami) tree located on the city's outskirts. According to legend, the Pandavas hid their weapons in this tree during their exile, and before embarking on battles, kings would worship this tree seeking victory. The British later renamed it "Jamboo Savari," a name that has since remained.

Procession: The procession begins at the Mysore Palace and proceeds through the city streets, making its way to the Bannimantap Grounds. The main attraction of this procession is the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari, placed on a golden mantapa (a decorated platform) atop a decorated elephant. This idol is privately worshipped by the royal family before the procession. The parade includes colorful tableaux, dance groups, music bands, decorated elephants, horses, and camels, all contributing to the grandeur of the event.

Cultural and Military Elements: The Jamboo Savari is not just a cultural event but also a display of military strength and tradition. The procession features various armed forces units, adding to the pomp and ceremony of the occasion. This blend of cultural and military elements makes the Jamboo Savari a unique and captivating spectacle.

Mysore Dasara Flower Show

One of the most visually stunning events during Mysore Dasara is the Flower Show, held at Nishad Bhag or Kuppanna Park. This grand display of horticultural excellence features a vast collection of flowering plants, transforming the park into a riot of colors and fragrances. The show is a testament to the region's rich biodiversity, attracting tourists and locals alike who come to marvel at the beauty and variety of the flowers on display.

Mahila Dasara

Mahila Dasara, or Women's Dasara, is a special event dedicated to celebrating the achievements and talents of women. This initiative aims to empower women by providing a platform for them to showcase their skills in various fields such as art, craft, music, and dance. The event includes cultural programs, workshops, and exhibitions that highlight the contributions of women to society, making it a significant part of the celebrations.

Festive Fusion

From breathtaking air shows and lively musical performances to enriching heritage walks and competitive sports, each event highlights the city's cultural richness and nurtures community spirit, ensuring memorable experiences for everyone.

Air Show

The air show is a thrilling addition to the Mysore Dasara celebrations, providing an aerial spectacle that captivates audiences of all ages. The event features aerobatic performances by skilled pilots, showcasing their precision and skill. The air show is typically held in the afternoon, offering a break from the ground-level festivities and providing a unique perspective on the city from above. This event adds an element of excitement and awe to the festival, making it a memorable experience for all who attend.

Musical Band Performances

Musical band performances are an integral part of Mysore Dasara, adding a melodic dimension to the celebrations. These performances feature local and national bands, showcasing a diverse range of music genres. From traditional folk music to contemporary hits, the musical bands entertain the crowds with their energetic and soulful renditions. The performances are held at various venues around the city, ensuring that music lovers can enjoy the festivities to the fullest.

Heritage Walk

The heritage walk is an educational and enriching experience during Mysore Dasara, allowing participants to delve into the city's rich historical and cultural heritage. Guided tours take visitors through significant landmarks, including ancient temples, palaces, and other historical sites. This event provides a deeper understanding of Mysore's past, highlighting its architectural, cultural, and historical significance. The heritage walk is a must-attend for history buffs and those interested in exploring the city's hidden gems.

Sports Meets

Sports meets are a vital component of Mysore Dasara, promoting athletic excellence and community engagement. These events include various sports such as wrestling, athletics, and other local games. The sports meets attract participants from across the region, fostering a spirit of competition and camaraderie. The events are well-organized, ensuring that both participants and spectators have an enjoyable experience. This aspect of the festival underscores the importance of physical fitness and community sports, aligning with the broader themes of health and well-being.

Heritage Cycling

Heritage Cycling is a recent addition to the Mysore Dasara festivities, aimed at promoting a healthier lifestyle and exploring the city's historical landmarks. Participants cycle through the city, visiting various heritage sites such as the Mysore Palace, Chamundi Hill, and other significant monuments. This event not only highlights Mysore's rich history but also encourages physical fitness and environmental awareness. The Heritage Cycling event is a fun and educational way to experience the city's cultural and historical significance.

Rangoli Competition

The Rangoli Competition is a vibrant and creative event that showcases the artistic talents of local artists. Rangoli, an ancient Indian art form, involves creating intricate designs using colored powders, flowers, and other materials. During Mysore Dasara, participants compete to create the most beautiful and intricate rangoli designs, often themed around the festival's mythology and cultural significance. This competition adds a colorful and artistic dimension to the festival, highlighting the community's creativity and cultural heritage.

Folk Artists Show

The Folk Artists Show is a vibrant event that celebrates the traditional arts and crafts of Karnataka. During this event, folk artists from across the state gather to showcase their talents in music, dance, and other performing arts. The show features a wide range of folk performances, including Yakshagana, Dollu Kunitha, and Veeragase, among others. This event is a testament to the rich cultural diversity of Karnataka and provides a platform for folk artists to share their heritage with a broader audience.

Cannon Firing

The Cannon Firing ceremony is a majestic 21-gun salute that honours the Chief Guest of the festival. This event is accompanied by the grandeur of the Jamboo Savari, music bands, and dance groups, creating a unique and unforgettable experience for the attendees.

Embracing Tradition and Joy

From the engaging Makkala Dasara designed for children to thrilling wrestling tournaments, artful exhibitions, and lively concerts, the festival showcases Karnataka's traditions. The grand finale features a mesmerising tableaux parade, while new additions like yoga sessions and dog shows bring fresh excitement. This family-friendly festival nurtures creativity, unity, and a deep appreciation for Mysore's cultural legacy, ensuring that every participant leaves with cherished memories.

Makkala Dasara

Makkala Dasara, or Children's Dasara, is designed to engage and entertain the younger generation. This event features a range of activities including children's cultural programs, storytelling sessions, and educational workshops. The aim is to foster creativity and curiosity among children while introducing them to the rich cultural heritage of Mysore. Makkala Dasara ensures that the festival is enjoyable for all age groups, making it a family-friendly celebration.

Wrestling Tournament (Kusti Spardhe)

The Wrestling Tournament, held at the Devraj Urs stadium, is a highlight of the Dasara festivities. Wrestlers from across India gather to compete in this traditional sport, which is deeply rooted in Indian culture. The tournament is not just about the physical prowess of the wrestlers but also about the cultural significance and traditional rituals associated with the sport. The energy and excitement of the tournament draw a large audience, both locally and from other parts of the country.

Dasara Exhibition

The Dasara Exhibition, held in the exhibition grounds opposite the Mysore Palace, is another major attraction. Started by Maharaja Chamaraja Wodeyar X in 1880, this exhibition aims to introduce timely developments to the people of Mysore. The exhibition features various stalls selling items like clothes, kitchenware, and cosmetics, along with a play area containing attractions like a Ferris wheel. Government agencies also set up stalls to showcase their achievements and projects, making the exhibition a bustling space filled with tradition and modernity.

Music and Dance Concerts

Throughout the 10 days of Dasara, various music and dance concerts are held in auditoriums around Mysore city. Musicians and dance groups from all over India are invited to perform, highlighting the dance and music culture of Karnataka. These concerts add to the festive atmosphere, providing entertainment for all who attend.

Tableaux Parade

The Tableaux Parade is held on the final day of Mysore Dasara, which is Vijayadashami. This event features a procession of elaborately decorated floats, known as tableaux, which represent various themes and stories from Karnataka's history, mythology, and culture. The parade includes participation from different districts of Karnataka, as well as various government departments and cultural organizations.

Each tableaux is meticulously designed to depict a specific theme, often highlighting the unique aspects of Karnataka's culture, folklore, and historical landmarks.

Promoting Wellness and Harmony

One of the newer additions to the Mysore Dasara festivities is the yoga activity, aimed at promoting wellness and harmony among participants. This event brings together yoga enthusiasts from across the city and beyond, providing a platform for them to practice and celebrate the ancient Indian art of yoga. The yoga sessions are typically held in the morning, setting a serene and energized tone for the day's celebrations. This initiative aligns with the broader theme of Dasara, which emphasizes the triumph of good over evil and the pursuit of holistic well-being.

Canine Companions

The dog show is another exciting event that takes place during Mysore Dasara. This event is a treat for dog lovers and owners, showcasing various breeds and their unique characteristics. The dog show features competitions in different categories, such as obedience, agility, and breed-specific shows. It is an opportunity for dog enthusiasts to come together, share knowledge, and celebrate the bond between humans and their canine companions. The event adds a fun and interactive element to the festival, making it enjoyable for families and pet owners.
